Compromise Rate for Two Years is Urged by Mouser

Former Marion City Solicitor Tells Council Members Majority of Municipalities Favor 55-Cent Charge, but Object to 60-Cent Rate Following Two Years

Appearing before members of the Marion City Council at a conference held in the office of Mayor Earl M. Davis, last night, former City Solicitor James E. Mouser, Jr., recommended acceptance of the compromise gas rate that he offered by the Logan Gas Co. for the next two years and declared that in regards the proposed new rates as exceptionally fair to the public.

The gas company's proposal is to charge a flat rate of 55 cents for each 1,000 cubic feet of gas used monthly during the next two years and 60 cents the following two years.

Mr. Mouser's recommendation, however, was for acceptance of only the two-year 55-cent schedule and he stated that representatives of 33 other Ohio cities associated with him in the rate controversy which now seems to be nearing conclusion are in accord with him on this point.

There is no assurance that the gas company will approve the two-year plan. Attorneys for the cities participating in the negotiations believe, however, that the company will acquiesce and not insist upon having the settlement include a 60-cent schedule for an additional two-year period.

Must Be Ratified

Whether the proposed settlement is to reach the gas company for final approval depends upon the action of councils in Marion and the other 33 cities affected by the rates. The compromise terms, either as a whole or in part, must be ratified by council action and should this ratification fail to materialize, the entire compromise proceeding will collapse.

Although no definite information is available, it was indicated today that all or at least a majority of the councils are in favor of accepting that part of the settlement plan which would establish a 55-cent rate for two years and rejecting the 60-cent rate for the following two years.

Holding Conferences

All of the councils are holding conferences this week for the purpose of deciding either for or against ratification and are to report their decisions to their attorneys, who will meet at the Neil House in Columbus at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Whether peace negotiations with the gas company will continue or the rate conflict will be resumed and fought to a finish, depends upon the sentiment expressed in these reports from the various councils.

The local council is to meet Thursday night to decide the question as far as Marion is concerned. Mr. Mouser will be immediately informed by wire regarding the action taken here in order that he may be able to report the decision at the Friday morning conference of attorneys.

In his talk to the local council last night, Mouser went over the proposed settlement terms in detail and explained why he and other city attorneys associated with him in the proceedings regard the 55-cent two-year rate schedule as exceptionally advantageous to the public. His explanation and the discussion which followed with councilmen and other local officials attending the meeting lasted more than three hours.

SUSPENSION OF MINING APRIL 1 IS INEVITABLE

Illinois Operators Will Not Attempt To Run Their Mines, Claim

Chicago, Mar. 30—Complete suspension of soft coal mining in the central competitive union field on April 1, when the Jacksonville wage scale agreement expires, appeared inevitable today.

The coal operators association of Illinois was standing pat on its announced policy of shutting down its mines unless the United Mine Workers indicate they will consider lower wages, and informal advices to Rice Miller, president, were that operators in other fields were in a like temper.

The executive board of the association was called into session today but little beyond discussion of a course of action after the suspension, was expected of it.

Won't Make Attempt

"As far as the Illinois field is concerned," said Miller, "there will be no attempt to run the mines with strike-breakers after the suspension. We are not opposed to the union."

Miller said he knew of no Illinois companies that expected to sign individual temporary extensions of the existing contracts.

"Complete suspension on April 1 appears inevitable," he said. "We believe some constructive change from the Jacksonville rate is necessary to prevent complete prostration of the unionized fields and ultimate disintegration of the United Mine Workers.

"The abandonment of interstate negotiations and the crippling of the central competitive field is just one of the many signs of the pathetic failure of unionism under a stand pat policy which totally disregards economic and competitive fundamentals."

Miller said the central field could continue to pay the existing wage contract and compete with non-union fields in West Virginia and Kentucky.

Union leaders were just as emphatic today in blaming the operators for the present impasse.

The Jacksonville scale provided a flat scale of $7.50 per day labor and a sliding scale on a tonnage basis. The operators claim some of the tonnage men average $12 to $20 daily. Union men claim the figures are exaggerated and that on a yearly average the miners are lucky to make $800 because of intermittent working periods.

There were no meetings scheduled today between officials of the operators association and the miners. Both sides on the surface were preparing for a long layoff.

AUTO KING IS FORCED UNDER KNIFE, RESULT

Billionaire Drives Coupe Down Embankment Near Dearborn Estate

KNOCKED UNCONSCIOUS

Unable To Testify in Million Dollar Libel Suit Brought by Sapiro

Detroit, Mar. 30—Henry Ford has been operated upon for injuries suffered when he drove a Ford car down a steep embankment near his Dearborn estate last Sunday, it was announced today by his counsel at the million-dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit trial.

HENRY FORD

Ford is now a patient at the Henry Ford Hospital and is resting easily. The operation was a minor one and "no serious complications are expected," his counsel said.

Ford's injuries will prevent him testifying this week at the million-dollar libel suit, it was said.

The accident occurred when Ford was forced off the south side of Michigan-av near the Rouge River bridge while on his way home about 8:30 o'clock Sunday night. His little Ford coupe plunged down an embankment and crashed into a tree.

Knocked Unconscious

The billionaire was knocked unconscious but after a while regained his senses and walked several hundred feet to his estate. There the gate keeper found him and rushed him to his house. Dr. R. D. McClure, chief physician at the Henry Ford Hospital, attended the

RELEASE OF PRISONERS FOLLOWS COURT RULING

Donahey Grants Freedom to Nine Prisoners in Two Days

Columbus, Mar. 30—Governor Vic Donahey, it was announced today, has liberated six prisoners, one from the Ohio Penitentiary and five from the Stark County Workhouse.

Announcement that the governor had pardoned three other prisoners from the Stark County Workhouse was made late Tuesday. All prisoners released from the workhouse at Canton by the governor, it was stated, had been imprisoned because of failure to pay fines, varying from $500 to $1,000, and costs, assessed for violating the state dry laws.

Said to be seriously ill with tuberculosis, James Bailey, colored, Scioto County, was released from the penitentiary where, last November, he began serving a sentence of from one to 20 years for forgery. His liberation was recommended by the trial judge and by the state board of clemency.

All releases authorized by the governor from the Stark County Workhouse were recommended by State Prohibition Commissioner B. F. McDonald, and by V. A. Schreiber, Canton, district superintendent of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League.

Those released from the Stark County Workhouse include: Harry Maston, John McFarren and F. O. Kountz, all convicted in the Massillon Municipal Court; J. Woods, convicted in the Summit County Common Pleas Courts and M. J. Van Meter, convicted in the Stark County Common Pleas courts.

Maston, McFarren and Woods were fined $1,000 each and costs, while Kountz and Van Meter were fined $500 each and costs. Maston was imprisoned June 14, last; McFarren, Sept. 16; Woods, Mar. 27; Kountz, Sept. 9, and Van Meter, Sept. 30, last.

ARREST CHIEF OF POLICE FOLLOWING LIQUOR RAID

$500,000 Seizure Made by Federal Agents in New Jersey Towns

Newark, N. J., Mar. 30 — Scotch whisky and malt valued at $500,000 was seized today by government agents in raids at Sayreville and South River, it was announced by the office of Colonel Ira L. Reeves, prohibition administrator for New Jersey.

Following the Sayreville raid, in which 1,000 cases of uncut Scotch were seized, Chief of Police George Gross was arrested, it was stated.

FACE SECOND TRIAL

M'Kay and Kelsey Convicted of Embezzling $605 from Widow

Cleveland, Mar. 30—Convicted of embezzling $605 from a Cleveland widow, George J. MacKay and Floyd H. Kelsey will appear before another jury here today on the second of many swindling charges against them.

The pair will be brought to trial on an indictment charging them with embezzling $2,758 from Lewis Flaugh, of Parma, Cleveland suburb.

The jury yesterday deliberated only 12 minutes.

Penalty for embezzlement calls for a sentence of from one to 10 years but Judge Hornbeck, presiding, said he would not sentence the men until all cases against them had been disposed of.

SINCLAIR'S ARGUMENTS FOR NEW TRIAL HEARD

Oil Magnate Starts Fight To Avoid Jail Sentence

Washington, Mar. 30—Harry F. Sinclair's fight to avoid jail was resumed in the district supreme court today with the beginning of arguments on the wealthy oil magnate's motion for a new trial in the recently concluded contempt proceeding.

Sinclair was convicted by a jury in Justice Hintz's court two weeks ago but will not be formally sentenced until the conclusion of arguments on the present motion for a new trial. The statute under which he was indicted carries a mandatory penalty of one month to one year in the district jail and a fine of $100 to $1,000.

The next step in the ordinary course, should Justice Hintz deny the new trial, as seems likely, would be to carry the case to the district court of appeals, and thence to the supreme court.

Sinclair, lessee of the celebrated Teapot Dome, naval oil reserve, was convicted of contempt of the senate of having refused to answer certain questions of the senate oil committee in 1924. The unanswered questions had to do with the multi-millionaire oil man's negotiations with former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall. Both Fall and Sinclair await trial in the district court here next month on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in the leasing negotiations.

THREE PERSONS DIE IN FIRE AT FRANKLIN, N. H.

Man Suffers Broken Back in 50-Foot Leap to Life Net

Franklin, N. H., Mar. 30—Two women and a man lost their lives, another man was seriously injured in a 50-foot leap into a life-net, and 21 other men and women were rescued by firemen, police and volunteers early today when a $400,000 fire swept the business district here.

The dead: Miss Mamie O'Brien, 45; Mrs. Emma Philbrook, 68; and George Gage, 60.

Fred Benjamin, 65, suffered a broken back when, poised at the edge of the roof, he jumped 50 feet through fire and smoke to a life-net.

GRAND JURY CONSIDERING CHARGES AGAINST BANKER

Mansfield, Mar. 30—The Richland County grand jury met here today to consider charges against Willian Lindley, cashier of the Lexington Savings Bank, who has confessed according to officials, of appropriating $75,000 from the bank by means of false entries and forgeries. The bank had been declared insolvent by the state department.

Flock of "Newsies" and Half of Sunday School Class Appear Against Jurist; Latter Charged with "Hand-Picking" Jurors in Cases

Indianapolis, Ind., Mar. 30—Circuit Court Judge Clarence W. Dearth, of Muncie, whose zeal in suppressing a recent issue of a crusading weekly newspaper, earned the sobriquet "Mussolini of Muncie," has been having his day in court as a defendant against impeachment.

The doughty Delaware County circuit court judge was brought to trial before the Indiana State Senate, sitting as a court, on seven counts preferred under a statute of 1897. The judge appeared at the Indiana state senate chambers with a string of two hundred lusty witnesses at his back. The prosecution subpoenaed one half that number.

One of the charges against the judge alleged that he hand-picked juries. The specific instance of the selection of Jacob Cavanaugh, a church worker of Muncie, was cited. Cavanaugh testified that Judge Dearth deeded him twenty feet of ground from the back end of a lot for $1 so that he could become jury commissioner.

Judge Dearth faced a charge also of confiscating an edition of the Post-Democrat, weekly Muncie paper, which contained an article picturing the city as a modern Sodom and laying the blame at the door of the mayor and judge. Cleil Maple, wealthy manufacturer of the city and church worker, on the stand, admitted writing the article.

"Newsies" Testify

A flock of "newsies" who sold the paper before being arrested and half of Maple's Sunday School class were among the witnesses for the prosecution.

George R. Dale, editor and publisher of the Post-Democrat, fled the wrath of the judge after the article was printed and for a time edited his paper by long distance telephone from Fort Recovery, Ohio. Dale in previous clashes with Judge Dearth was convicted of direct and indirect libel.

F. Harold Van Orman, Evansville, lieutenant governor of Indiana, has been presiding at the trial.

LEVEE COLLAPSE DRIVES THOUSANDS FROM HOMES

19 Square Miles of Land Flooded by Mississippi in Tennessee

Memphis, Mar. 30— Two thousand persons, driven from their homes last night when the Laconia Circle Levee tumbled into the river and flooded 19 square miles of farm lands, were being housed today in box cars and tents at Helena and Snow Lake, Ark.

An opening in the levee created by the crumbling banks let the 51 foot swollen Mississippi River rush into the circle, and flooded 12,350 acres of farm lands and drove 1800 negroes and 200 white persons from their homes.

Warned that the break had occurred by shrilling whistles of two dredge boats standing by, residents fled before the onrush of the waters and belief was expressed that none had lost their lives.

Laborers since Sunday had been at work at another dangerous spot, warding off a possible break with sandbag reinforcements. The Missouri Pacific railroad, which had been hauling sandbags to the weakening points without charge, carried many families to safety.

"SWEDE" TO MARRY

Oberlander and Miss Madeline Chase of Everett To Wed in June

Boston, Mar. 30—Andrew J. Oberlander, 1925 Dartmouth football hero and all-American back, now assistant professor in the department of physical education in Ohio State University, is soon to marry Miss Madeline Chase, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Chase, of Everett.

The wedding probably will take place in June. The couple will make their home in Columbus, Ohio.

1,500 DEVIL DOGS QUIT PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, Mar. 30—Scenes reminiscent of World War days were enacted here today as 805 Marines, China-bound, steamed out of Philadelphia at 1 o'clock this afternoon to join the 1,500 "devil dogs," now in the far east. The men left on four special trains, which departed simultaneously from the Reading B. and M., Pennsylvania and the navy yard railroad stations.

Colonel Harold C. Snyder was in command of the two battalions which will go direct to San Diego, thence to China on the Transport Henderson.

CALLS FOR AID DISPATCHED TO NEARBY CITIES

Rescue Equipment Ordered to Scene by Bureau of Mines

Creston, Pa., Mar. 30—Officials of the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Co. here estimated that there 250 miners entombed in the Ehrenfeld Mine at South Fork, as a result of a terrific explosion there today.

The mine is located at Ehrenfeld, Pa., near here and calls for rescue workers and equipment have been forwarded to the U. S. Bureau of Mines at Pittsburgh, Pa., and to Johnstown, Pa., southeast of here.

Bureau of mines rescue equipment was ordered here from Derry, Pa., according to return reports from Pittsburgh.

Between 500 and 600 men are employed at the mine. It is not known definitely just how many men were in the mine at time of the blast. Officials stated that the number is approximately 250, others at the scene place the figure at near 300.

Machine Gun Slayings in Detroit Result of Kidnaping

Detroit, Mar. 30—A murder charge was lodged today against Abe Axler, of New York, one of the four men believed to have occupied the apartment from which machine gun fire snuffed out the lives of three men.

While police were developing their case against Axler, they admitted that Meyer "Fish" Blumfield, whose kidnaping resulted in the three machine gun murders, was safe. He is hiding out, however, apparently afraid to disclose the identity of his kidnapers to police fearing another and more serious "ride."

Selfridge, it is understood, proposes to buy Whiteley's for $50,000,000.

MOBS APPROACH BEHIND GROUPS OF CHILDREN

Hurl Missiles and Fire Occasional Shots; Defenders Shoot into Air

AT WEAKEST POINT

Anti-Foreign Feeling Continues To Spread Throughout China

Shanghai, Mar. 30—(Midnight) — Chinese mobs opened attacks upon the barricades about the French concession tonight.

The mobs of Chinese approached the barricades of the French concession, behind groups of small boys and girls who had been herded in front of the attackers and given them shelter.

The attack occurred at the Avenue Des Deux Republiques, where mobs

"Anti-Foreign"

hurled missiles over the barricades and fired occasional shots.

Rush Reinforcements

Reinforcements have been rushed to the French barricades and defensive measures have been tightened in the international settlement.

The French concession adjoins the native city of Shanghai and is regarded as the weakest point in the defenses of the foreigners.

American residents in the concession have asked for American troops, but the French commander has thus far refused, maintaining that his forces were sufficient to afford protection.

Barricades have been erected between the French concession and the International settlement and even though the Chinese mobs penetrate the French concession they will be faced by heavy defenses before they can reach the international settlement where the majority of the Americans in Shanghai are now quartered.

Anti-foreign ardor continues to spread in China today, and the entire coastal region seems in ferment.

While reports come of the evacuation of foreigners from Chefoo and other towns in the north, which still are under control of the northerners, there came a report today of anti-American attacks in the southernmost province of Kwangtung.

The French administration of Kwangchowan in Kwangtung has cabled a report that an American Catholic mission there has been looted and that the fathers in charge have been forced to take refuge in Kochow. The French authorities suggest that warships be sent there immediately.

Thirteen Americans are isolated at Hoichow on Hainan Island, according to the French authorities, and grave fears are felt for their safety. It is recommended that a warship be sent there to investigate.

Northerners Withdraw

The Northerners apparently are not yet prepared to give resistance to the Cantonese for they have withdrawn in order from Nantungchow to the north, after the U. S. S. Pillsbury evacuated nine Americans in that town and in Dukow.

Cantonese continue to fire on refugee ships. The Tatung and Loongwo, bringing 195 American refugees from Haukow, under the escort of the Destroyer Paul Jones, was fired on as it passed Nanking during the night. There were no casualties although several rifle bullets hit the vessels.

The Cantonese have occupied the Standard Oil property in the British concession, but thus far have done no damage as an American destroyer has been standing by.

Some significance is seen in the fact that the foreign defenders have erected barricades along avenue Edward VII, which divides the French concession from the international settlement, which is now entirely surrounded by barricades and is not reliant upon the French concession for any protection.

Last night there were 1,400 arrested for failure to observe the curfew law.

Railroad service to Nanking was resumed today.

In the Chinese area there are an

SMALL FORCE AT WORK ON HARDING MEMORIAL

Elford Construction Co. Columbus, Preparing Site for Actual Construction

A small force of men employed by the Elford Construction Co. of Columbus have started work making preparations for construction operations on the Harding Memorial tomb, which is expected to get under way soon.

The preliminary work includes building of a driveway leading up to the tomb site and construction of a temporary structure which will serves as an office for the Elford company superintendent, C. H. Pruenninger.

Mr. Pruenninger, who will be in charge of the work until its completion, expected early next fall, stated today that the first shipment of marble to be used in construction of the tomb is reported to be enroute from Georgia and that unless there is some unforseen delay it should reach here next week.

The Elford company has the general contract for construction of the tomb and has awarded a sub-contract for the marble work to the Georgia Marble Co. of Tate, Ga.

EIGHT COAL MINERS ARE REPORTED KILLED

Harrisburg, Ill. Mar. 30—Eight men were reported killed at mine No. 2 of the Saline County Coal Corporation, five miles south of here today. Gas in a pocket of the mine is believed to have been ignited by a lamp, reports said.

ERIE RAILROAD TO ADOPT NEW SCHEDULE APR. 3

Change in Time Table Announced by Chief Train Dispatcher J. R. Folsom

A new Erie Railroad time table to be issued within the next few days and to become effective at 3 a. m., Sunday Apr. 3, has been announced by Chief Train Dispatcher J. R. Folsom.

The time table will carry no change in schedule but the time of trains operated between Marion and Cincinnati will change from Central Standard to Eastern Standard.

At present, the Erie Railroad's time table for trains operating out of Marion west has been carried on Central Standard time since practically all stations along the line had this time in the homes and factories. Beginning at 3 a. m., Sunday, this time changes to Eastern Standard and the railroad will change with it.

The Eastern Time line extends from Toledo to Cincinnati via Lima. The change in time in that vicinity will necessitate a change in the schedule of the Big Four and B. & O. Railroads.

With the change of the time tables here, all trains operating on railroads through Marion will be run on a uniform time, Eastern Standard.

Gives Reports

In giving a report of the thirty-first annual track inspection of the Hocking Valley Railroad Co., W. L. Roller, engineer of maintenance of way, dwells mainly on the construction and maintenance of the double track through Marion from Columbus to Fostoria.

There was no inspection held on the Hocking Valley in 1925, due to the construction of the second track and its consequent disruption of maintenance schedules.

The year 1926 was the year of consolidation of the gains on the Hocking Valley and a season of "mopping up", Mr. Roller states. With the addition of something over 60 miles of main track through Marion on the Toledo Division, and the initiation of actual double track operation from Columbus to Fostoria, via this city, the problems of maintenance took a new aspect.

At the time of the inspection, the general maintenance conditions had been brought up to a high level, it being the consensus of the opinion of the inspection committee, of which Supervisor F. A. Sparks of this city was a member, that track and roadway conditions were above the average.

One new feature of the annual inspection was that for the first time mechanical inspection of track for detection of low joints, track level and gauge was made by use of the Erie test car which was engaged for the purpose.

The tabulation of grades of committee inspection on line and surface, ties and crossings, sidings and policing, also ballast and ditches resulted in F. A. Sparks of this district receiving first award.

U. S. INCREASES BORDER PATROL TO CHECK RUM

Flow of Canadian Booze into New York State Is on Increase

Syracuse, N. Y., Mar. 30 —One of the greatest bootlegging campaigns ever known in the history of prohibition is being prepared by government officials and New York state police for this coming summer.

The main cause of all this preparatory work in Uncle Sam's campaign to halt Canadian liquor from flowing across the border into this country, is the fact that on May first the entire province of Ontario joins the province of Quebec in the wet columns. After that date thirsty Canadians in Ontario can obtain liquor or beer.

A large number of commission stores will start operating and, as from Quebec, large quantities of Canadian liquor is certain to find its way into downstate New York.

Add New Troopers

The first move by officials to combat the liquor floods this summer was the appointment of two score additional state troopers to Troop B, stationed at Malone and spread along the international boundary section like a fan.

Captain Charles Broadfield, in command of Troop B, often called the "Black Horse" troop on the border, now places his personnel at 95 enlisted men with three officers. Additional officers will be needed, Captain Broadfield declares, and it is expected that the appointments will be made from the list of veteran non-coms in his troop.

While the state police at Malone and other points adjacent to the border are being recruited to full "war" strength, the United States customs and immigration patrols are being enlarged.

Collector John C. Tulloch at Ogdensburg is known to be on the lookout for daring young men who fear neither gun-toting bootleggers from downstate nor the blackjacks of "speak-easy" proprietors whom they try to entice with a "buy" now and then on the hunt for evidence.

Chief Rupert Nisbeth, in charge of all departments of the customs border patrol excepting the actual customs agents at ports of entry, is conducting a search for promising men to bolster up his ranks before the Ontario flood starts pouring across the St. Lawrence river and Lake Ontario.

Recently the government announced examinations for customs agents "for duty along the Canadian border." This examination, it is said, brought forth a whole company of candidates, so lucrative have the opportunities of border agents become during the past few years. But still the sufficient number of agents has not been obtained and once more the call for recruits in the battle against booze has been sounded at Ogdensburg.

"The Home Beautiful Contains a Grand"

SPRING GRAND PIANO EXHIBIT

— INVITATION —

THE public is cordially invited to attend an exhibition of GRAND PIANOS in the beautiful Grand Salon, on the second floor of our store during Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. (Elevator Service.)

Do not miss this opportunity of a life-time to view and inspect at your leisure, the largest display of high-grade and popular priced GRAND PIANOS ever shown in this section of the state. See this exhibition while you may — the opportunity may never occur again.

During this exhibition, we will display practically every size grand—from the smallest apartment baby grand, which occupies no more space than an upright, to the largest size next to the Concert Grand, nearly nine feet long!

MANY MAKES AND STYLES

This exhibit contains some of the world's most famous makes of Grand Pianos, including three Steinway Grands, two Weber Grands, two Duo-Art Reproducing Grands (electrically operated), Stuyvestant Baby Grand, Straube Grand, Lester Grand, Schaff Bros. Baby Grand and other makes and sizes.

Everyone is welcome to attend this wonderful display of Grand Pianos, whether or not you are considering the purchase of one. Come and make yourself at home —note the extremely low prices marked on each instrument, if you are interested—get a paper floor pattern showing the space a grand will occupy in your home, let us tell you what we will credit you on the exchange of your present piano. You may take two years to pay if you wish.

COME—YOU WILL NOT BE IMPORTUNED TO BUY.

TURNER HANDS DOWN RULING ON BANK CASE

Declares Superintendent Cannot Compel Transfer of Trust Department Assets

Columbus, Mar. 30—Attorney General Turner today ruled in an opinion given to E. H. Blair, state superintendent of banks, that where a national bank operating a trust department is placed in the hands of a receiver appointed by the comptroller of the currency, and is in process of liquidation, the Ohio superintendent of banks cannot compel the transfer of assets of the trust department of the bank to a special deputy appointed by him for the purpose of having a separate liquidation of such trust department.

The ruling, based upon a request from Superintendent Blair, relates to the Central National Bank of Marietta, which, about Feb. 21, last, was said to have been closed by federal banking authorities at the request of the board of directors of that bank.

Informing Turner that it had been his understanding that "trust companies and trust departments of either national or state banks were without question under the jurisdiction of the state banking department, Blair stated he had been advised that the federal banking department instructed the receiver of the Marietta bank to refuse to turn over to the state of Ohio any assets of the trust department of that bank and that all assets of the trust department must be turned over to the receiver of the Central National Bank.

Can Examine Books

"Where a national bank exercising trust powers is in the hands of a federal receiver appointed by the comptroller of the currency, and in process of liquidation, the superintendent of banks of Ohio has authority to examine the books of such trust department and to retain control of the funds of $100,000 deposited with the state treasurer until he is satisfied that proper accounting has been made in all of the trusts being administered by such trust department," declared the attorney general, in his ruling to Blair.

The state superintendent of banks, Turner held, is authorized to examine the trust department of a national bank and may, in the event of the discovery of any unlawful acts in the administration of any of the trusts being administered by such trust department, proceed, by proper action in the state courts, to compel the administration of such trust in accordance with state law.

BEAUTY SWORN AS SHERIFF

A few hours after Miss Betty Bloss, above, was chosen as the most beautiful girl in the employ of Sedgwick County, Kansas, she was sworn in as the first woman deputy sheriff of the county—two honors in the same day. She has no ambition to be a two-gun woman however, but declares that she plans to substitute a typewriter for the pistol.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

CLARA BOW

WARNED by the suffering she has seen other screen folk undergo, Clara Bow—Mme. Elinor Glyn's protege—as decided to take a long rest before she begins another picture. Although ill for the past few months, she has reported at the studios each day against the advice of her physician and friends.

When production goes behind the schedule on a motion picture set, actors and actresses sometimes work almost 24 hours at a stretch under the most trying conditions. Movie audiences want their heroines slender and dieting isn't conducive to the husky constitution required to endure such intensive work.

Since Clara first flashed into fame in "Down to the Sea in Ships" some years ao she's been working steadily with scarcely any rest and her health has suffered. No that her work in "Wings," Paramount's epic of the air, is virtually completed shes' going to take that vacation she's been promising herself. Except, she complains it's no fun vacationing when one is ill.

Blanche Sweet has one of the most complete wardrobes in Hollywood. She has collected costumes durin the many years she has been appearing on the screen. Miss Sweet catalogues the garments as she discards them and stores them away for possible use in future productions. Some of the dresses date back 15 years to the time when she played "Judith of Bethulia," the first picture made in two reels.

Everyone has a little bit of genius, though it may take some one else to discern it and point it out to the possessor.

Summit Authorities Raid "Ice-House"; Seize Gambling Paraphernalia

Akron, Mar. 30—Bob Levine, Cleveland, was to be arraigned today in municipal court on a charge of violating his parole following another raid late Tuesday at the "Ice-House" in Northfield, Akron suburb, where the raiders claim about 100 Cleveland men were gambling.

Levine, who is said to be the proprietor of the Crescent Country Club, was fined $100 and sentenced to 90 days in jail last January. The jail sentence was suspended.

Deputies last night confiscated two truck loads of alleged gambling paraphernalia, found, they said, in a secret room at the club's quarters. This was the eleventh raid staged at the resort.

Sheriff Jacob Bollinger has warned Cleveland gamblers that he will tolerate no gambling in Summit County. He says he will raid the club daily if the owners persist in operating.

CAUSE OF MANY BAD ACCIDENTS IS DISCOVERED

At a recent investigation it was found that sudden attacks of dizziness caused auto drivers to make a large percentage of accidents that are happening more frequently every day. Pepgen relieves dizziness.

Mrs. Will Potter, 911 N. 10th St., Elwood, Ind., writes "I had dizzy spells in which I couldn't see my hand before my face. I was also constipated and suffered with indigestion. I think all of my trouble came from bad kidneys, stomach and liver.

"I took Pepgen with the most gratifying results. I am no longer troubled with dizzy spells and constipation. I sleep fine and do not have that old tired feeling with which I was troubled."

If you don't feel well try Pepgen. It has helped others and you may confidently expect it to do the same for you. Sold by Bradley's Drug Store, Marion, Ohio, and other well stocked drug stores everywhere.—Adv.

Many Freaks of Animal Kingdom Will Be Seen In Circus Parade Here Thursday

MARION residents, especially the children, are going to have a pre-season treat Thursday morning, when a small circus parade will travel through the business district.

Circus parades are nearly a thing of the past, traffic conditions in nearly all cities having forced them to abandon the time-honored, gaudy display of the circus flaunting its way through the streets of a city.

However, the parade Thursday will not be large enough to interfere with traffic downtown in Marion. It will be unique, but it will be compact. It will present in minature the revival of what was once the mightiest feature of every youngster's life, the coming of the circus and the brilliant pageant of the circus parade.

The parade Thursday will serve two purposes. It will serve to introduce to Marion residents a group of interesting circus features which has wintered quietly here, and it will mark the actual opening of a "circus" at the Grand Theater, where "Spangles" a story of the big top of the old days will open Thursday afternoon. Ed Sharpless, manager of the Grand Theater, is arranging for the parade to give a real circus flavor to the opening of the picture.

Quartered at Fairground

The circus parade will be from the Bahren Motorized Shows, which has been at the Marion County fairground since late last Octobre, putting the equipment in shape for taking the road again this spring. The animals of the show have been kept in the horse sheds and the motor equipment has been parked under the grand stand, being overhauled and painted, to be ready to start out on the circuit of the central states again this summer.

William Bahren is owner and manager of the show, and his chief aide and caretaker of the animals this winter is John Brown, brother of Charles Brown, a local youth who is now a bare back rider and horse trainer with the Sells Floto Circus.

Bahren has a choice collection of freak and trick animals at the Fairground. He is going to take as many as possible in the parade Thursday morning.

Wrestling Bear

The star performer of the outfit is Teddy, the wrestling bear. Teddy is a husky specimen and more than a match for any heavyweight wrestler. When in the mood he is unbeatable at wrestling, Brown says, and he knows, for he wrestles with him when the show is on the road. At times he takes him on during the winter, just to keep in practice. When Teddy wants to "rough it up" and make it interesting he gives Brown a real assignment. Only Brown wrestles with him, as Teddy's temper is too uncertain to trust him to strangers.

Then there is Muggsy, an eight months-old cub bear, who some day is going to be a roller skating artist, when he gets over his childish ways and decides to amount to something. Muggsy hasn't much idea of what it's all about yet, but Brown expects to start him on the roller skate road to fame when the show starts on the road this spring. Muggsy is not an overly attractive specimen of bear just now, as he is nearly "bare" in several places. He is shedding, and in spots looked as though he had been packed away without the use of mothballs.

Three-Legged Chicken

There may be more than one chicken in the world that wears a glove, but there is not more than one in Marion. Brown displays one such chicken with a glove to keep its extra leg and foot from freezing, among the collection of freaks in the Bahren show. This chicken has an extra leg growing out of its rump, and as the bird can not sit down on this extra leg, which extends toward the head along the side, some covering must be provided for the extra limb. The chicken has two normal legs and struts and eats quite as though an extra leg were nothing to get excited about.

The next funniest looking animal is Sammy, the dwarf horse, who grew up in body, but not in legs. May be he did not grow up in mind either, as he does not look overly bright, but that may be his age. Brown says he is 17 years old. Sammy stands no higher than a good sized police dog. He has a normal body and head, but his legs just forgot to grow, and he is built too close to the ground for anything but display purposes.

The other equine displays in the show are two bucking mules, Red and Trixie, who, Brown says, have never yet been successfully ridden, and a horse with eight feet.

Freak Cattle

Three freak specimens of cattle, and two freak sheep are also included in the collection of animals. The cattle include a five legged bull, a three legged calf and a six-legged calf. The sheep have five legs each.

The sheep are normal looking specimens when gazed at from one side, but turned around they display an extra leg apiece, sticking out from the shoulder. The leg is attached to the right shoulder of one and the left shoulder of the other. Both have extra heavy coats of wool and are full of pep just now, wanting to get out of their portion of the stable and do a little "gamboling on the green."

Five-Legged Bull

The five legged bull is a stocky brute with an extra foreleg growing out of the spine at the base of the neck. The leg hangs down over the left side, but the foot is deformed.

Bahner brought his show into Marion last October and quartered them at the fair ground for the winter. The outfit has been gone over in the last few months and is now in shape to take the road again. All moving is done in the motor equipment. Bahner has a truck fitted up with living quarters in which he and his wife travel with the show. The outfit is getting ready to leave Marion shortly, as the season opening will take them up into Michigan, where they will make their first stand late in April.

The greatness thrust upon us is sure to grate upon our neighbors.

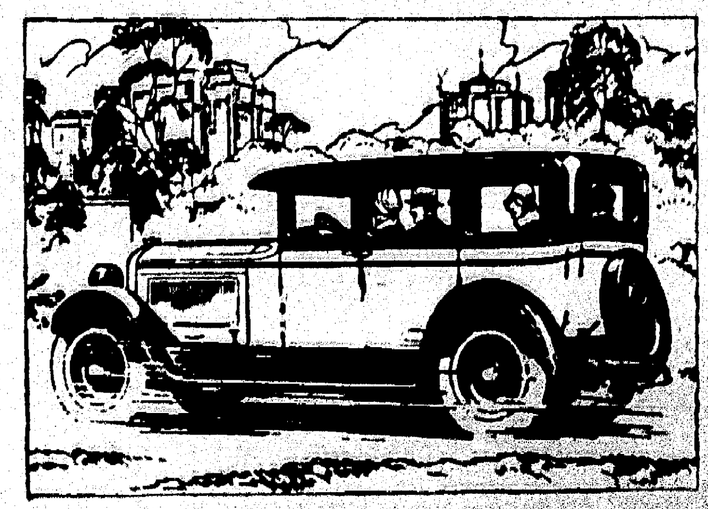
Hupmobile Quality
Represents a 10 per cent bonus
In Extra Value



Every Worth While Feature the Modern Car Should Have

Clear Vision Bodies—Color Options—Mohair Upholstery—Walnut Finished Instrument Board and Window Ledges—Contrasting Window "Reveals" on Closed Bodies—Instrument Panel Under Glass, Indirectly Lighted—Vision-Ventilating Windshield—Automatic Windshield Cleaner—Solid Walnut Steering Wheel—Rear View Mirror—Tilting Beam Headlights—Headlight Control on Steering Wheel—Both Manifold and Thermostatic Heat Control—Dash Gasoline Gauge—Gasoline Filter—Force Feed Lubrication—Oil Filter—Special Vibration Dampener—4-Wheel Brakes—Balloon Tires—Snubbers.

As the closest-priced six on the market, Hupmobile offers all you expect of the most expensive sixes—in sparkling performance, in beauty of line and color, in high grade accessory equipment.

But Hupmobile Six quality goes far deeper. Into the engine and chassis, the body structure and the costly refinements are incorporated a full 10% higher quality—quality that represents an actual bonus in spirited action, long life and low operating costs.

With the extra cost of this extra quality manufacture absorbed in its selling margin—instead of being passed on to the purchaser—the new Hupmobile Six is obviously the closest-priced Six in America.

Finer materials and finer workmanship throughout explain why Hupmobile Six owners enjoy marked freedom from high maintenance; why a Hupmobile Six retains its original smooth running qualities for as long as you care to drive it.

See the latest series Six at our showrooms. Test its thrilling performance and riding ease. You will soon know why motorists everywhere call it today's greatest value in the six-cylinder field.

And talking about May days at their best, what about Tuesday?

It begins to looks as though the work of the foreign missionaries we have sent to China is another case of "love's labor lost."

Maybe that title of "acting commissioner" was bestowed upon Mr. Haynes as a gentle hint that he should act as well as talk.

Now had we but thought in time and shipped our pacificists to China, we might have been able by this time to have recorded some sincere conversions.

Just at present the paragraphers who have been sniping at the administration's foreign policy aren't sniping so you can notice it.

Still, it's no more than natural that the reds, the internationalists, the pacificists and the parlor pinks should be out after Secretary of State Kellogg. He refuses to play their game.

So Mr. Carroll is to go behind the bars? That bathtub couldn't have served much better toward the cleaning-up of the stage had it been filled with water.

Possibly Mr. Clarence Darrow feels that he is qualified to advise how to curb crime by the fact that he has done so much in a professional way to encourage it.

"No church has ever gone into politics," says Dean Inge, "without coming out smirched and discredited." Now we know what has made him the "Gloomy Dean." He has been watching the churches which have been dabbling in the muddy pool of politics, as a one-time, well-known local citizen used to call it.

The propaganda sent out from Columbus looking to the converting of an unsightly river front into a high-priced building center at state expense does not appear to have struck a popular chord out through the state.

Senator Borah may not appreciate the fact, but he's going to have a hard time escaping responsibility in part for every drop of American blood shed in China and for every outrage committed since his utterance of last week, in which he said "I thank God that nationalism marched into Shanghai yesterday," upon American citizens over there.

To test the sporting spirit of the people who are seeking the enactment of a law which will prait of the formation of a bus monopoly, it might be proposed to them that they pay a tax per mile for each mile of road over which their busses run equal to that the railroads pay on their rights-of-way and interest at the legal rate on the cost of constructing and maintaining such rights-of-way.

Maybe We Expect Too Much.

Had there been doubt of the wisdom of the course pursued by President Borno in barring United States Senator William H. King, of Utah, from Hayti as an undesirable, it would have been pretty thoroughly dissipated by the senator's utterances for publication since his return last week from his Caribbean trip, for he has since reiterated the utterances, in large part, which caused the Haytian president to take action looking to the senator's exclusion. In an interview in New City, he charged that the department of state in Washington and the United States high commissioner to Hayti had really participated in his exclusion by failing to employ what he termed their dominance over President Borno to force the president to admit him. He said:

"President Borno has no power but what he gets from the state department and General John H. Russell, the high commissioner. He is merely a puppet. If the state department and General Russell had demanded that I be admitted, President Borno would have raised the ban at once. By their failure to do this, the state department and General Russell acquiesced in my exclusion."

"As for the state department's instructions to General Russell to use his good offices with President Borno to persuade him to allow me to enter Haiti, that was a mere subterfuge," went on the senator. "I repeat that if the state department and General Russell had said genuinely to President Borno: 'Let King in,' all opposition would have vanished at once."

One might imagine that a man elected to and occupying a seat in the United States senate—it is necessary these days to include the occupancy clause, as some are elected and fail to secure their seats—would be able to see that the state department was barred from taking the course the senator desired it to take; that such a course could not be taken by it without establishing the senator's previous charge that President Borno was a mere puppet of the state department and of General Russell and absolutely under their domination? Wouldn't one just naturally imagine that a United States senator would know too much to expect the department of state to go out of its way, were his repeated charges well founded, to convict itself? But possibly we have been overestimating the intelligence of the general run of United States senators.

An Amazing Highway Plan.

A plan which will eliminate the necessity for more trunk line subways in New York City and at the same time relieve traffic congestion and wonderfully augment the city's transportation, a plan which seems more like a fantastic dream than a serious proposal—has not only been suggested to the city authorities and received the approval of the consulting engineer to the regional plan of New York City and its environs, but is also being given serious consideration. The plan calls for an investment of $660,000,000 and it is estimated that the gross return from rentals will be $295,215,000 annually, which, it is figured, would mean the amortization of the project in twenty years or less.

The mighty project contemplates not only two vehicular highways at grade, grade arcades and movable platforms for foot passengers, but also two great roof top highways from lower Manhattan to Yonkers. The planned project will consist of a series of buildings between present avenues on the west side of the city, connected by bridges over the cross streets at the second and third floors and at the roofs.

In the lower section of Manhattan these buildings will necessarily cover an entire block. From Fourteenth street north, it is proposed to use a strip of property approximately 425 feet in width in the middle of the block, and 120 feet in width in the center of this strip will be used for the main building on the east and west sides of which there will be new avenues, each fifty feet wide, known as North avenue and South avenue leaving block-long plots of approximately 100 feet in depth fronting on the new avenues for future development.

The main building will be twelve stories above the street level with basement and sub-basement. In the sub basement will be four railroad tracks for freight service, the two center for running tracks and the two side tracks against the freight platform for loading and unloading. The basement will be of sufficient height to take care of conduits and sewers, leaving sufficient space for freight trains to pass underneath.

The first, or avenue floor, will be arcaded to cover a ten foot sidewalk, leaving a clear fifty-foot roadway for vehicles and will be devoted to stores or other desirable purposes.

The mezzanine floor will be given to office space chiefly, allowing ample space for a package-freight platform system.

On the second floor, which will be the main floor of the building, will be carried a continuous noiseless moving platform system for passenger service. The system will consist of a series of adjacent belts moving at from three miles an hour on the first belt—each belt moving at a speed three miles faster than the next preceding belt — up to twenty-one miles an hour on the seventh or main belt, on which latter will be a seating capacity for nearly 200,000 passengers per hour passing a given point. This service will be rendered free of charge and will not merely relieve the distressing conditions in the present transit facilities, but will obviate the necessity for additional subways, as has been stated. On this floor and also on the gallery above same, will be retail shops, restaurants, booths, etc.

The upper floors will be used for purposes suitable to the section in which they are erected—in downtown districts for offices, light manufacturing, wholesale businesses, etc., uptown for apartments, hotels, schools, theaters, etc.

The roof, which will be reached at either end of the new highway by ramps and at convenient intervals by both vehicle and passenger elevators, will be a parkway devoted to north and south boulevards for passenger vehicles exclusively, with the center forming a protected promenade. This parkway promenade will furnish a safe and healthy recreation space for children and the usage of certain of the building units for public schools should prove an important factor of advantage and safety.

Had the announcement of this proposed transportation and building been run in the New York papers a few days later, we might assume that it was a gigantic April fool joke, but as it happened it was run last Monday.

It seems at first glance that such an undertaking on the part of a city is out of the question, but when it is stated that vehicular traffic congestion is losing Manhattan alone $500,000 daily—such is the estimate, at least—it may be seen that some radical step must be taken to meet the transportation problem of the city which is growing more and more acute daily. This particular project may never become an actuality, but if it does not, those among us who live a generation or two longer will probably see some system in use in New York City and other large population centers fully as extraordinary as this appears to be to us at first glance.

The auto has presented a problem which must be met if the automobile business is to survive, and we refuse to believe that American inventiveness and American initiative will not be equal to it

Of course, if the New York courts are going to administer jail sentences for vile stage presentations, it's pretty close to a certainty that we will soon hear a lot about the blow which has been struck at "art."

"Peaches" Browning is to receive $3,700 a week in vaudeville, which, if true, offers a splendid illustration of the esteem in which the mentalities of their patrons are held by vaudeville managements.

Philadelphia claims the largest golf course in the world pointing out that she has 1,100 miles of city streets and 2,361,872 holes. She may beat us on mileage a bit, but had she seen west Center street she never would have made that claim on holes

A few days ago we had a few words to say in tribute to Senator Borah's course in connection with the congressional salary grab of two years ago, which is the first tribute we can recall having paid him in a decade. In the light of his utterly inexcusable utterances upon the Chinese situation, we can safely figure that it will be the last, as well, for a decade to come.

THEY PLANT THE ONION SETS.

Well-Kept Body Means Happiness.

BY ROYAL S. COPELLAND, M. D.

Are you happy? If not, why not?

If you are happy, why are you happy?

I'll tell you why you are happy. It is because you are well and strong, your digestion is perfect and your "liver" is in working order.

If you feel "grouchy," cross and crabbed, it is because you are "off your feed," or because some organ is congested and out of kilter. You can't be happy unless your body is happy, too.

Look over your social friends with something of a critical eye. You will observe that one friend is sad and sallow. Another is in a mood that's brutal, with a physical condition that's "bilious."

In contrast with these, are the red-cheeked, bright-eyed, vivacious creatures who are the darlings of society. They are just irresistible because they are all the time bubbling over with good spirits and good health.

I wish health were contagious, instead of disease. Wouldn't it be wonderful to come in contact with somebody possessing perfect health and unfailing good nature and then "catch" both? That would be a worth-while contagion.

The other day I told you there is an action and a reaction in health and happiness. Mind has much to do with the welfare of the body and, in its turn, the body controls the mind.

If you have a violent headache, toothache, or some other ache, it distracts you. It becomes impossible to think clearly and to enjoy things which appeal to you when you are well.

A man may become so much of a grouch that he just settles down to live with his moods. But I doubt if he would stay this way if his body and all its organs were sound and normal.

Take my advice: If you find yourself touchy and irritable, out of touch with your daily duties, and ugly as Satan, you may be sure something is wrong with your physical system. Set to work to find the focus of trouble. Having found it, get rid of your physical disability whatever it is. Then you will return to your normal state of mind and be your real self once more.

Something is wrong with your body if you are not happy. In all probability it is your own fault—overfatigue, working hard in a poorly ventilated room, overfeeding, neglect of the eliminating organs—nine times out of ten neglect or abuse is the real cause of the physical disability. With a reformation on your part will come happiness and cheerfulness.

Today's Worst Story.

BY WILL ROGERS

The farmers didn't get any relief from congress until congress adjourned, and that wasn't so very much relief, because they knowed the smart guys would meet again in just a little while. But the people in the cities don't always realize that farmers have more pests to put up with than just merely congressmen. I'll even go so far as to say that congressmen ain't the worst pests they have to deal with, in some parts of the country, anyhow. There's cockleburrs and potato bugs and chintz bugs and mortgages. And them are all pests that don't adjourn.

One farmer out in Oklahoma was showing sightseers from town over his farm, and they come to a place where they was potatoes growing on one side of a little road, and corn on the other side. But there was a sign on the potato patch that said: "Sweet Corn," and on the other side where the corn was the sign said: "Potato Patch."

"Got your signs mixed, ain't you?" said one of the city birds.

"Nope, they're thataway a-purpose."

"What do you mean? It's very confusing."

"Sposed to be confusin. The potato bugs get fooled, and go off into the corn and get lost, and the chintz bugs, that lives on corn, gets led astray into the potato patch and starves to death. I got my own schemes."—Copyright, 1927.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

This country needs experts—experts in government, experts in business, experts in the home, experts in the church, and experts in the school. Not just so-called experts. You know an expert has been defined as any ordinary man away from home. Not that kind. But we need men who think straight through problems and have the nerve and courage to do what is necessary. If we could have schools that would teach people to think they would be of greater value than any ordinary vocational school. Thinking is an art—rare and difficult. It is worth working at.

What is it in human nature that is always attracted by the element of novelty? Librarians tell us that the demand is for new books, good or bad. Old books are usually better, but we crave the new. This is an age that wants something different." It doesn't always want the best, but it wants the newest. There is a lot of difference between getting something better and getting something different.

If you come to the honest conclusion that the old way is better don't be afraid to go back to it. The radicals do not have all the courage. It sometimes takes courage to be old-fashioned.

Long ago somebody said that to manage men one ought to have a sharp mind in a velvet sheath.

There are more velvet sheaths than there are sharp minds.

Why read history? Why study history? Through history we learn to give value to the present hour. The best way to judge the value of a present event of apparently world-wide importance is to have something by which to measure it. History is the most accurate measuring rod.

An old proverb says that "he does not believe who does not live according to his belief." That is not exactly true. We may believe that a certain course is the proper course, but the immediate force of circumstances may seem to make it impossible to live and act in accordance with that belief. Better say that one does not believe who does not try to live in accordance with his belief.

Vagrant Verse.

SINGS OF SPRING.

When the bright billboards bloom along the road,
And barns are gay with posters red and blue;
When towering elms are decked out a la mode
With placards held down by a tack or two;

When nailed unto the old, romantic bridge,
This warning greets us, and with horror fills:
"Now is the time to take"—Oh, sacrilege!—
"Boojammer's Bitters and Pink Liver Pills!"

When from the ancient limbs of oak and pine,
Which almost meet before the sylvan vale,
A banner's hanging, which proclaims how fine
Is "Kuster's Ketchup, ev'rywhere on sale!"

When on the rails of every straggling fence
One marks this legend, writ in letters gay:
"Buy your spring clothing from the Providence
Outfitters, and you have a year to pay!"

When boulders bear upon their polished sides
Injunctions to try Dopplewhite's Root beer,
And signboards flaire where the pale crocus hides
Its green-hedged highways—then the spring is here!

The stage is not alone in displaying big courage in adversity. There are thousands of young men and women in New York pursuing artistic careers on starvation scale. The attics are filled with them south of Washington square. They are not all idle dreamers but ambitious people willing to live on crusts in their gamble with Fate. They win, too, in many instances.

Here is a true story of the danger of ... drinking. An out-of-town couple asked a ... hop to procure a bottle of Scotch. He brought it a few minutes before theater time and after pulling the cork it was decided to wait until after theater and ask some friends to join them. They put the bottle in a closet. When they returned a policeman was stationed at the door. A hotel maid finding the bottle had taken a surreptitious drink and in thirty minutes had died in frightful agony.

A Broadway school of acrobatics, starting in a small office room, now occupies an entire floor. The explanation is said to be that ladies go there to aid in getting thin.

A noticeable increase in tap dancing schools is also noted in the theatrical district. That a spy tells me, is the result of the reducing influence of tap dancing on armour-like ankles.

It has always mystified me how sidewalk theatrical ticket speculators continue to make a living. I never patronized them without getting a seat behind a post or a man with a high pompadour.—Copyright, 1927.

Who's Who and Why.

DR. SIMON FLEXNER.

Simon Flexner was born at Louisville May 25, 1863. He studied for medicine in universities of the United States and Germany and bears honorary degrees in science from many others here and abroad. Dr. Flexner began his career as an associate professor of pathology at Johns Hopkins university in 1895. In 1899 he went to the University of Pennsylvania as full professor. At the present time he is director of the laboratories of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, an office that he has held since 1903, and also chairman of the Public Health council of New York state. Dr. Flexner is a member of a large number of medical and scientific societies and the author of many papers on bacterial and pathological subjects. He thus defends vivisection:

"It is inconceivable that the advance made in the understanding of the essential nature of disease and of the logical means of its prevention and cure, could have come from the mere observation of sick human-beings, and the hap-hazard dosing of them with indefinite drugs.

"We owe the great progress of the past thirty years which has added about twenty years to the expectation of life, to the employment of animals for the investigation of the physiology and pathology of man. And when it is taken into account that the number of animals employed for this purpose is relatively small, that any experiment which may give pain is performed under anesthesia, just as painful surgical operations on man are performed under anesthetics, and that a discovery made in any part of the world is at once freely communicated and may be applied far and wide, it becomes apparent how great is the sparing of human suffering, how profound the addition made to human happiness, and how small the price paid for these inestimable benefits.

"No one can estimate fully the immeasurable blessings which have followed the recent discovery of insulin, a substance that throughout the world is making the lives of tens of thousands, indeed hundreds of thousands, of sufferers from diabetes tolerably and happy. No one can calculate the benefits which have followed already, and will follow in ever-increasing measure, from the discoveries and investigations now in progress on the physiological influences of light ... the effects of X-ray, radium and sunshine and its equivalents on such diseases as rickets, tuberculosis and rickets."

Some Questions of Interest Asked and Answered.

Q. Is stock killed by packers inspected before killing? A. M. C.

A. The bureau of animal industry says that all animals presented for slaughter in establishments operating under the federal meat inspection service are given an ante-mortem inspection. At the time of slaughter all parts of carcasses, including the internal organs, are given an examination, known as the post-mortem inspection. All preparation and processing of meats and products at such establishments are done under the supervision of bureau inspectors, and the products subjected to reinspections whenever deemed necessary for the purpose of determining whether such products still remain wholesome and fit for food. The purpose of supervising the processing of meats is to see that they are handled in a clean manner, are not exposed to insanitary conditions, are not contaminated with deleterious matter, are kept free from prohibited substances, and are correctly labeled. The inspection begins with the examination of the live animal and ends at the time the product leaves the establishment.

Q. Does the Mormon church practice polygamy? J. F. C.

A. The Mormon church disavowed the practice of polygamy. Any plural marriage is unlawful both in the state and in the church.

* * *

Q. What and where was Coxey's army? W. N.

A. As one historian says: "one Coxey of Massillon, Ohio," originated the plan to lead an "Army of the Commonwealth of Christ" to Washington in 1894 to propose a government issue of $500,000,000 in greenbacks to be paid out for work upon the public roads that the unemployed might be given work and that the country might at the same time be supplied with serviceable highways. On May 1 of that year Coxey, accompanied by 350 men, arrived in Washington.

Q. When do the cherry trees in Washington bloom? T. L. J.

A. The single flowering varieties of the cherry trees, which are planted mostly around the Tidal basin and West Potomac park begin to bloom usually about the 1st of April and last about ten days. The double flowering varieties, which are mostly in the East Potomac park, begin to bloom about the middle of April and last about ten days. If the weather is very warm and there is an early spring, they come out earlier.

Q. What fats are used in the manufacture of butter substitutes? A. J.

A. At the last report the fats used were sesame oil, peanut oil, oleo oil, neutral lard, butter, cocoanut oil, corn oil, mustard oil and edible tallow.

Admiral Williams Cites Chinese Indignities Upon Americans

U. S. SHIPS FIRED UPON, MISSION LOOTED, ROBBED

Minister McMurray Reports New Danger Spot at Ichang on Yangtze River

Washington, Mar. 30—Further indignities perpetrated by Chinese nationalists upon Americans and foreigners were reported to the navy department today by Admiral C. S. Williams, commanding the Asiatic squadron. The American Catholic mission at Nanking has been looted, and foreign residents leaving Nanking have been stoned by Chinese mobs, he reported.

American vessels in the Yangtze River are continually fired upon by Chinese snipers.

Minister MacMurray at Pekin reported a new danger spot to the state department today, Ichang, 800 miles up the Yangtze River, where at last reports there were 28 Americans.

"There is considerable anti-foreign agitation there, he reported and "unfavorable reaction is expected."

Americans fleeing from the wrath of Chinese along the Yangtze River must run a virtual gauntlet for nearly 1,000 miles before they reach a safe portal in Shanghai.

Americans Scattered

The immense stretch of territory in which Americans are scattered in missions or in business was emphasized by officials here today in expressing renewed fears for the rescue of hundreds of foreigners.

The American and other foreign gunboats and destroyers, it was said by naval officers, must patrol the river for a distance greater than the length of the Mississippi River. Throughout the perilous journey with rescue foreigners from the up-river cities the ships are subject to fire by Chinese snipers from both banks.

With Nanking evacuated and most of the foreigners already fleeing from cities nearer Shanghai growing fear was felt for those deeper into the recesses of the Yangtze valley, the scene of the recent triumphs of the Chinese Nationalists.

Latest reports indicated that many Americans still were in the vicinity of Hankow, 600 miles up the river and center of one of the greatest industrial regions of China. Hankow is now securely in the hands of the Nationalists.

Steamers Easy Prey

Beyond this city are the famous gorges of the Yangtze through which ships must travel to reach the remote foreign settlements. Not only are the gorges, said to exceed those of the Colorado River in grandeur, dangerous for steamer travel but make steamers easy prey for a well-organized attack from shore.

No large number of Chinese was killed in the recent bombardment of Nanking by American and British ships, Admiral William declared in a report to the department. No shots were fired in the Chinese section, he added.

All vessels of the Asiatic Fleet in Chinese waters have been ordered by Admiral Williams "to keep a sharp watch for foreigners in native craft and to take them aboard if desired." Minister MacMurray reported to the state department today.

British Ordered Out

In another message quoting Rear Admiral Hough, MacMurray stated that after a slight encounter between Chinese and a group of sailors from the British warship Woodcock at Changsha, the Chinese commissioner for foreign affairs has submitted demands for the withdrawal of the British warship. The commissioner had also withdrawn the right of extraterritoriality from all British subjects and as a result the British consul has ordered the evacuation of all Britishers in that district.

Consul J. R. Putnam, at Amoy, reported today that the situation there remains quiet, although trouble may be expected when the seamen's union goes on strike April 1.

The situation at Hankow remains tense, according to Consul General Lockhart. He reported that the American missionaries remaining in Hankow consist of 26 men, 11 women and 9 children. There are also 93 other Americans of whom 19 are women and 8 children. In the last week 353 Americans have been evacuated from Hankow, with many others thronging to that city from the interior every day. Lockhart added that so far there have been no serious disorders in Hankow.

SHEEP, LAMBS STOLEN FROM FARM NEAR LA RUE

Sheriff James A. Deal Called to Thomas Clark Residence; No Clews

Sheriff James A. Deal was called to the farm of Thomas Clark, three miles north of LaRue, this morning, to investigate the theft of seven ewes and seven lambs, stolen from the Clark barn last night.

The investigation showed that a truck was used to haul away the animals but the sheriff obtained no tangible clews which might lead to tracing the robbers. There were more than two dozen ewes and lambs in the barn, only about half of them being stolen.

When in doubt a wise man gets out—if possible.

HERE MORE ABOUT
FORD'S INJURY

auto king and last night ordered him removed to the hospital for a minor operation.

A formal statement issued by Ford's counsel at the trial reads as follows:

"At 8:30 p. m., Sunday, Mar. 27, a Ford coupe driven by Henry Ford and occupied alone by him, was forced off the south drive of Michigan-av. a few feet east of the Rouge River bridge, and plunged down a steep embankment into a tree.

Ford states that he was forced over the embankment by a car which came upon him from behind as he emerged from the driveway of the Ford laboratories at Dearborn. After a period of dore or unconsciousness, Ford walked with difficulty several hundred feet to the gate keeper on his estate who summoned Mrs. Ford.

Surgeon Called

"Dr. R. D. McClure, chief surgeon of the Henry Ford Hospital, was immediately called and remained with the injured man until Tuesday night, when he was removed in an ambulance to the Henry Ford Hospital where he is now undergoing treatment. There has been a minor operation.

"Because of the lawsuit now in progress and the unavoidable and unfounded inferences that may be drawn, the facts were withheld from the public although communicated to the court Monday morning.

"Today, however, it developed that the newspapers had somehow obtained information, and a statement is issued.

"Mr. Ford strongly deprecates the suggestion that the accident was the result of intent on anyone's part.

"At present Mr. Ford is resting easily and no serious complications are expected.

Sapiro On Stand

"On Sunday night Mr. Ford had gone to his garage, taken out his coupe and driven along to the Dearborn offices where only watchmen were on duty. This custom of going about alone at all hours has caused concern to his friends but no amount of counsel has availed to change it. As a result, only the garage man and Mrs. Ford knew that he was out, until the gatekeeper's alarm following the accident."

The news about Ford's accident came while Aaron Sapiro so-called wheat king, was on the witness stand at the trial in federal court.

Sapiro was subjected to a bitter cross-examination by Senator James A. Reed, Democrat of Missouri, chief of Ford's counsel.

Sapiro was pilloried today on the rack of cross-examination.

Before a crowded courtroom and a jury that hung on every word, Senator Reed delved into the forgotten past of Sapiro and into every detail of his amazing rise to power in the American farm world.

Hammers at Sapiro

Reed hammered away at Sapiro's statement that he earned $400,000 from his professional practice in the years 1916 to 1926.

Reed and Sapiro presented a strange contrast. The senator, white-haired and deliberate, growled his questions, sometimes with a sneer in his voice and always in tones that expressed doubt of Sapiro. The "wheat king" black-haired and infectuous, replied in a soft voice, sometimes with a break in tones as though he had choked on a sob. In the parlance of courtrooms, both were "putting on a show."

Reed went back to 1916 to open the cross-examination. He first asked Sapiro how he and Philip Ehrlich, San Francisco attorney, split their law fees. Sapiro said he got 60 per cent and Ehrlich got 40 per cent. Then Reed wanted to know what share of the fees went to Sapiro in all other law firms in which he had a membership. Usually, Sapiro said, he got 60 per cent of the fees.

Reed Invokes Tricks

Reed scored when he produced papers from a San Francisco law suit, involving Sapiro and two of his former law partners, David and Lawrence Levy. Sapiro said he never read the paper and upon objection of his counsel, the court would not allow Reed to ask questions on the case.

Reed invoked all courtroom tricks to no avail. Time and again, he apparently forgot dates or confused Sapiro's replies but the "co-operative king" never wavered.

Before Sapiro resumed the stand, the court laid down a new rule limiting each side to 10 minutes' argument on all points of law. Heretofore some of the arguments have lasted a day, until they seemed like the senatorial filibusters against which Reed protested in the closing days of the last congress.

FRAUD CHARGE RESULT OF SALE OF HORSE

William Hatcher Held Under Bond for Grand Jury

Following a hearing which occupied practically the entire day in Municipal Court yesterday and included the questioning of numerous witnesses and spirited arguments by attorneys, William Hatcher, 606 E. George-st, was bound over to the grand jury on the charge of fraud in connection with the sale of a horse. He furnished bond of $400 pending grand jury action.

The charge was filed by Earl E. King, farmer living in the east part of the county, who says that he paid Hatcher $150 for a horse which was represented as being absolutely sound and that he found it to be defective in several details. King claimed that the animal had an injury to one of its legs, was weak winded and became obstreperous when hitched up to a vehicle.

Hatcher called in witnesses in an effort to prove that he had not misrepresented the horse.

Carter M. Patton and John H. Clark were attorneys for King while Fred L. Carhart represented Hatcher.

Local attorneys say that the records disclose few cases of this kind ever having been tried in any of the courts here.

SIX INSTEAD OF FOUR SCHOOLS IN FINAL ROUND

LaRue, Green Camp and Agosta Tie for Finals in Special Contest

Six county high schools, instead of four, will take part in the finals of the county literary contest Friday night.

The two extra schools come in as a result of a tie score of 21 points in the triangle meet in which LaRue, Green Camp and Agosta took part last Friday night, which was not completed, owing to a failure to make a decision on the part of the judges, and two contests in which decisions were not given were held again last night, resulting in a score of 21 points for each school. This throws all three schools into the finals, as there is no way under the rules by which such a tie can be broken.

List of Schools

The six schools which will take part in the finals will be Meeker, LaRue, Waldo, Agosta, Caledonia and Green Camp.

The literary committee has drawn up the rules for the finals, and has arranged for the students who competed away from home last Friday night to stay at home this Friday night for the finals. The negative debate teams traveled in the preliminary contest and the affirmative team will travel in the finals. The other contestants who traveled with the negative team last Friday night will stay at home with them this Friday night.

Judges from outside the county will be chosen by County Superintendent C. B. Rayburn to preside at all the contests.

The lineup of contests for the finals will be LaRue, Waldo, Agosta, Caledonia, Green Camp, Meeker, with the first named sending a team to the second, and so on down the list, and the last named sending its visiting team to the first on the list.

TRIAL STARTS

Jury Hearing Action Filed by Lavina Smith

After nearly two hours spent in getting a jury seated, including using up all the available prospective jurors and calling more, the case of Orin B. Kruskamp, charged with a statutory offense, on a complaint filed by Lavina Smith, got started at 11 o'clock this morning before Judge George B. Scofield in Common Pleas Court.

Judge Grant E. Mouser, employed as counsel by the prosecuting witness was with Prosecutor Frank Wiedeman as counsel for the prosecution and Fred Warner and William P. Moloney represented Kruskamp.

Lavina Smith was called as the second witness for the state. Her mother preceded her on the stand.

The girl was questioned on direct examination by Judge Mouser. She related her experience the night of May 8, 1926, when the alleged assault took place.

ricksbaws today, as the general labor union has ordered rickshaw pullers to join the union or face arrest by pickets.

The Shanghai provisional government which has been established has a strongly radical tinge. The 15 members of the government include Bei Chung Hsi, chairman, three avowed communists representing the general labor union, two students of radical tendencies, a woman lawyer, a local business man and three Nationalists from the right wing.

To Welcome Chiang

The provisional government has announced that it is arranging a number of mass-meetings, one to welcome Chiang Kai Shek and another to celebrate the institution of the provisional government, while still another will be for the purpose of promoting friendliness between the soldiers, laborers, merchants and students.

Violent anti-British propaganda is being disseminated from some 50 Chinese colleges. This propaganda scores the British bombardment of Nanking but curiously makes no reference to the American participation in the bombardment.

The U. S. Pilsbury has been ordered to Tsingtao on Kiachow Bay in Shantung, a considerable distance from the present war zone, to protect the evacuation and concentration of Americans.

Further Americans were reported evacuated from Hankow today on the S. S. Shasi.

PEKING IS CALM, CANTONESE NOT FEARED

Peking, Mar. 30—In icontrast with the flame of terrorism which is racing over south China, Peking today is calm and peaceful.

Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, commander-in-chief of the Northern Army, by his iron measures, has completely suppressed activities of Southern agitators, although the official organ of the government charges that the Russian Soviet embassy is a hotbed of propagandists, who are attempting to incite students and labor leaders.

On the surface there is no anti-foreign feeling here. The only danger that may arise, it is believed, would come from artificially incited mobs. It is reported that members of the "dare and die corps" of the Southern Army have made their way into Peking and they doubtless would become ringleaders if rioting could be fomented.

American residents of this city are not frightened by the threat of a northern invasion by the Cantonese, although a few Americans are sending their women and children to Tientsin. Canton and Peking armies of the military plans of Gen. Chang Kai-Shek, the Cantonese commander, refused to speculate upon the possibility of a drive northward. Nor would they attempt to estimate the speed at which the Cantonese could advance. In the south the Cantonese had practically no opposition when they marched upon Shanghai.

Marshal Chang Tso-Lin has about 400,000 troops in Manchuria, the Peking area, Shantung Province and Honan Province against about 285,700 Cantonese regulars.

MORE THAN 300 ATTEND FIRST BORER MEETING

Educational Campaign in Extermination Program Opens at Meeker School

A large crowd and plenty of interest on the part of those present marked the first educational meeting in the corn borer campaign held at the Meeker school last night.

More than 300 persons were crowded into the hall to see the film depicting the increase in the damage of the corn borer within the last few years, and to hear the talks given by Banks Collings, who is here in the interest of the federal government during the campaign, and T. H. Parks, of Ohio State University.

The interest which the campaign against the corn borer has aroused in this county was evidenced by the large number of questions asked by those present both of Mr. Collings and Mr. Parks.

Similar Meeting

Tonight there will be a similar meeting at Kirkpatrick in Scott Township, and Thursday night at the Star Auditorium in Marion, for the entire county.

A change in the plans for the machinery demonstration Thursday afternoon has been made, it was announced today, owing to illness in the family of Frank Morral, at whose place the demonstration was to have been given. Instead of the Morral place, the meeting will be held at the farm of John Buck, in Salt Rock Township, two miles south and two miles east of Morral and three miles east and one mile north of Meeker.

The Thursday morning demonstration will be held as first announced at the farm of O. P. Shoots, on the Upper Sandusky Road, at 9:30.

T. H. Parks, who gave the chief talk at the Meeker meeting last night, has spent several years in study and observation of the actual work of the corn borer in the quarantine district of this country and Canada. One of his first remarks was that he had no intention or desire of painting a picture other than the way he had observed it. He said that he did not fear that the corn borer would entirely drive farmers out of the growing of corn but it was his opinion that they would be compelled to change their methods of farm operations to the extent that they could grow corn in spite of the corn borer.

Questions Asked

The big meeting of the week, and perhaps of the campaign in this county will be the one to be held in the Star Auditorium Thursday night, to which everybody interested in the corn borer work is invited. These meetings are free.

Parks will again be the speaker at the meeting there tomorrow night and the film showing the damage of the corn borer will be shown. Efforts are being made to have groups of business men from all over the county, as well as farmers attend this meeting.

Acid Eats Steel
Don't let it attack your teeth

Most tooth troubles, most gum troubles, are due to acid. Sugars and starch form that acid by fermenting between the teeth and in crevices. That acid attacks the teeth and gums—largely where the tooth brush does not reach.

Phillips' Dental Magnesia tooth paste neutralizes acids—kills them instantly. It is forced by the tooth brush wherever the acid forms. When you realize that fact you will never start a day or night without it.

It contains Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in concentrated form. Dentists have recommended that for 50 years to neutralize mouth acids.

But Phillips' Dental Magnesia tooth paste does many other things. It is the greatest tooth paste yet created to meet all modern requirements. It whitens teeth, combats mouth germs, stimulates the gums, purifies the breath. You need no nothing with it.

Learn what it does. Watch it beautify the teeth. Feel and taste the delightful results it brings you in the morning. One day will make you very glad that you learned of this all-in-one dentifrice. Go try it now.

REVIVAL

Steam Shovel Band To Present Concert at Epworth Tonight

That interest in the revival in progress at Epworth M. E. Church is increasing daily was evidenced last night when the largest week-night crowd to date, was in attendance. Large delegations from the various women's organizations, Ladies' Aid Society, Missionary Societies and two Women's Bible Classes, were present.

Rev. Myron E. Taylor, evangelist, preached on the subject, "A Father's Check to His Son," taking as his text, 1 Chronicles 28:9, Davids words to his son Solomon, "If thou seek Him, He will be found of thee, but if thou forsake Him, He will cast thee off forever." "God's word is filled with promises, and each one of them is just the same as a check on the bank of heaven if presented in the name of Christ, who alone has credit there," the evangelist said.

"Young People's Night" will be observed tonight at which time delegations from Harding and Junior High Schools and Epworth Sunday School are expected to attend. A feature of the service will be a concert by the Marion Steam Shovel Band. Gilbert W. Otteson, assistant evangelist, and the chorus choir will be heard in several vocal numbers. Reverend Taylor will preach on the subject, "An Outing Trip."

NAMED PRESIDENT

Mrs. Edward Walker Elected Aid Society Head

Mrs. Edward Walker was elected president of the Ladies' Aid Society, Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Bulduf, E. Church-st. Mrs. Len Thompson was elected vice president, Miss Alma Church, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. R. J. Jackson, assistant secretary and reporter. Mrs. E. E. King and Mrs. Thomas Moon were enrolled as members of the society.

Several entertaining readings were given by Mrs. Paul Sprang after which Mrs. Edward Walker received honors in the contest. Luncheon was served. Mrs. Wilbur Van Postle will be hostess of the society in two weeks at her home, Pennsylvania-av.

PLAN STAG SOCIAL

Plans were made for a stag social following the next meeting in one week at the meeting of members of the Red Men's Lodge last night in their hall. Plans also were made to confer the chief's degree on a class of candidates at the next meeting.

Daughters of America Present Entertainment

An entertaining program and social were given by members of Paramount Council, No. 37, Daughters of America, last night in Junior Order Hall, W. Center-st, as a means of raising money which will be used to finance a contest, which is being planned for the near future. There was exceptionally good attendance.

Miss Bernice Howison opened the program with three readings, "Aunty Doleful's Visit," "So Was I," and "The Limit." A piano solo was played by Miss Louise Foreman and a solo sung by Miss Janice Laughman, with Miss Charlotte Courtney playing her piano accompaniment. Miss Geraldine Kraus, pianist, and Eldon Fout, violinist, entertained with an instrumental number and Miss Lois Sims with two readings, "Encouragement" and "If I Could Be By Her." Mrs. Leonard Caldwell gave an interesting number, "Wit and Humor" which was followed by a piano solo played by Miss Pauline Zachman and a vocal solo sung by Miss Dorothy Carder, Miss Zachman playing her accompaniment. Mrs. Willard Clark gave a clever reading, "Woman's Rights."

An original number and the concluding number of the program was the playlet, "Henpeck, Holler, Gossip," which was presented by a cast which included Mrs. O. E. Staley, Mrs. H. B. McMurray, Mrs. Willard Clark, Mrs. W. F. Fowler, Mrs. Albert Kuhn, Mrs. Walter Carder, Mrs. S. A. Hollenbach, Mrs. Leonard Caldwell and Misses Lucille Staley and Ruth Caldwell.

Refreshments were served during a social hour.

The annual lodge inspection will be conducted by Miss Clara Dick of Shelby, district deputy, at the next regular meeting and class initiation next Tuesday night at the hall.

REVIVAL SERVICE

Rev. Earl L. Holliday Preaches on Evangelistic Victory

"Essentials in Evangelistic Victory" was the subject of the sermon preached by Rev. E. L. Holliday, pastor of Emanuel Baptist Church, at the well attended revival service last night at the church. Reverend Holliday mentioned three essentials to evangelistic victory, prayer, consecration and a burdened heart. Rev. S. F. Porter, of Shiloh, who assists the evangelist, sang, "Steal Away with Jesus."

Cottage prayer meetings were held in the various homes this afternoon and a children's service at the church in charge of Reverend Porter. Reverend Holliday will preach on the subject, "Going Deeper with God," at the service tonight.

STOP BAD BREATH

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no griping, pain or any disagreeable effect.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c. All druggists.—Adv.

"PAIN WAS DRIVING ME WILD"

Snowbound on remote farm, gets relief from acute neuralgia

Snowbound and alone on a remote farm, miles from a doctor, a plucky Canadian woman endured for hours the racking agony of acute neuralgia.

"The pain in my head was driving me wild," she writes, "when I happened to see a bottle of Sloan's Liniment on the dresser. I gave it a trial and in no time the pain was gone. I slept peacefully the rest of the night."

Sloan's gives quick, genuine comfort to every kind of muscular pain, because it doesn't just deaden the nerves. It helps the body to throw off the conditions that are causing the pain.

No need to rub. Pat a little Sloan's on lightly. A healing tide of fresh, germ-destroying blood begins tingling through the aching place and the pain, swelling, stiffness are quickly relieved. So clean and easy to use, too. All druggists—35 cents.

Wisdom's Child

It's an unthinking girl nowadays who fails to realize the value of beauty—and a very wise one who, like Miss Dotty Casper, 640 E. Sixth St., New York City, treasures her greatest charm—rose-petal complexion—using Black and White Cleansing Cream. She says: "I depend absolutely on this soft, melty cream to remove every particle of dust and powder, and to give the deep pore-cleansing so necessary for freshness and loveliness. It's wonderful how my skin repays this simple care by growing prettier each day!"

This exquisitely textured cream, which melts at a touch, slips in and out the pores bringing every impurity that would cause blackheads and other blemishes, and keeps the skin always immaculately clear and beautiful. It is a popular one of the famous Black and White Beauty Creations, such as Cold Cream, Beauty Bleach, Face Powder, Talcum, etc., all attractively priced at 50c and 25c.

If your dealer doesn't have the Black and White Beauty Creations you want, send his name to Plough, Dept. 87, Memphis, Tenn., and you will receive free a copy of the Birthday and Dream Book, containing many interesting facts on beauty, dreams and fortune telling.

Women's Safer Hygiene

New—Discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse

WOMEN by millions are discarding old-time "sanitary pads," unhygienic makeshift methods for a new way called Kotex.

✓ It discards as easily as tissue. No laundry, no embarrassment.

Five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads, one now wears sheerest frocks and gowns with never a fear of embarrassment.

Another important factor, it deodorizes thoroughly, thus ending all danger of offending.

Doctors and nurses now widely urge it. 8 in every 10 better class women employ it.

Obtain at any store simply by saying "KOTEX." Box of 12 costs only a few cents. Be sure you get the genuine, for only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

... had looked at the picture and ... Jim himself was examining it. The picture of a beautiful woman was inlaid behind a magnificent glass in the deep setting. "Do you know where Mr. Danvers is now?"

"Why—my goodness!" the woman exclaimed seemingly surprised at the question "didn't you know? Why, John Danvers has been dead nearly twenty years. He was killed in New York in a street accident in October of 1898!"

"The month the girls were born," said Jim in a low voice.

"Killed!" the girls echoed in unison, and then Betty added, as she turned to Jim, "That, perhaps, was the reason why Prof didn't get any answers to his advertisements in the newspapers."

Probably, Jim Elwell agreed. At the moment he was studying Nina Kingsley very closely.

"Do you mind telling us, Miss Kingsley," Jim asked pointedly, "just how you came to know my name?"

The woman whose fame in the theatrical firmament had failed to reach these benighted ones from Indiana laughed softly and permitted herself another graceful shrug o the shoulders.

"Why, I asked the waiter," she confessed with fine naivete.

"Hm-m," said Jim Elwell to himself. He looked at the woman keenly and her eyes after a brief encounter with his own, dropped.

"And can you tell us where the relatives of our mother may be found?" Betty asked, her eyes bright with unshed tears.

Nina Kingsley replied slowly that she was awfully, awfully sorry. "That is something I really cannot tell."

"She's a liar," Jim Elwell told himself and even then he felt the positive accuracy of his snap judgment. "She knows, all right. There's some reason—some personal reason—why she won't tell and if I didn't have to get these kids back to Camdenville early tonight I'd ask a hell of a lot of questions."

However, that might have been a hard thing to do, even if Jim had had the time. Nina Kingsley announced that, sorry as she was, she had to leave. She was taking the train for New York, and would they excuse her? She could be reached in New York, you know, by mail or they would forward it to her. She wrote an address down for Jim.

The matinee was ruined for all three of the young sojourners in Chicago. They were late, in the first place, and the two girls violated all the proprieties of the theater by constant whispering.

To their eager questions Jim replied that he was convinced Nina Kingsley had lied to them. She knew more than she had told, far more, he was sure.

"I don't doubt that his is your mother's picture," he told them. "Mollie and Prof can check up on that, for they're likely to remember what your mother looked like. But for a woman who knew so much about the ring, Nina Kingsley knew surprisingly little in answer to some of the questions we asked her. She lied when she said she had learned my name from the waiter. The waiter didn't have any more idea of what my name was than a rabbit."

"But he might have found out for her," Rusty volunteered. "by asking for us. Of course, I think she was lying, too, but—"

"She didn't have to know my name," Jim interrupted, to write me the note. She could have said dear sir with just as good results. No, she knew it all along and it just popped out when she began to write. That's where she made her mistake."

"What gets me," said Betty, a puzzled frown between her eyes, "is how she came to know your name."

"Little girl," and Jim patted her hand, "I'd give this trick nickel in my pants pocket to know the answer to that!"

It was the opinion of the entire Elwell family that night, when they had returned to Camdenville and had related the strange story to Prof and Mollie, that the mysterious Nina Kingsley had not told them the whole truth.

"Nina Kingsley," repeated Prof over and over, "that name certainly ought to be familiar to old-timers like Mollie and me if she was as big a humdinger on the stage as she admitted being."

Mollie declared positively that she had never heard of the name. "And I've always been interested in news of the stage and always read it in the papers," she supplemented.

Both Mollie and Prof had received a distinct jolt when they examined the ring and beheld the trick setting the picture of the woman who had come to their home that dismal night in October more than eighteen years ago and had died after leaving behind the two little girls that were to grow up into the wonderful creatures that were now formally known as Margaret and Elizabeth Elwell.

"Why Prof!" Mollie had said, slightly staggered, as she lowered the ring from the light.

"It's her, all right," the elder Elwell pronounced. "It's her to a T. That nose and mouth, Mollie. I wouldn't forget them in a hundreds years. Girls," and he turned toward the eager twins, "this has been a big day. Somehow I feel that something's gonna come of it sooner or later. And to think," he went on, "that the ring has been layin' around here for more than eighteen years and we never had sense enough to try to find out the reason for that peculiar setting!"

"Really, she told us very little when everything is summed up, with the exception of father's name and how he died," said Rusty in an aggrieved tone. "We're hardly any wiser now than before we met this Nina Kingsley."

"And we have no proof that that information is correct," Jim pointed out, skeptical now of every assertion the woman had made. "I'll bet four dollars that the name Nina Kingsley is phony, as well as the New York address she gave us. You might try out the address right away, just to be curious."

"And it's my further belief," he concluded, that she could have told us the name of the brother the girls' mother spoke of so many times that night. She's playin' a crooked game, and I'm willin' to gamble on it."

* * *

It is not the purpose of this story to dwell at any great length, or to hark back more than is required for its development, to the horrors and devastation of the World War itself.

It is, however, to our purpose to call attention to one phase of the war in particular, that aftermath of the war of which mention already has been made. That aftermath is the Unknown Soldier, about whom so much has been written and read.

The Unknown Soldier. Before his shrine kings have knelt, and nations have paid homage.

And is that Unknown Soldier's spirit now floating around out there in those vast realms of space where immortality is said to dive in the promise of a better life to come?

Not altogether. Look about you in the government and state hospitals, the imbecile homes and the soldiers' homes throughout the country. You will see him in all those places. He still breathes, eats, sleeps, walks and talks—a kind of talk.

But he lives in a world of forgotten things where breathing dead men exist.

For he is one of those aftermaths, the saddest of all, of war. He is the living absorber of shell-shocks and gas bombs.

His name? It is legion. Have you never met him? No? Well, he still has a mother living, perhaps. And a wife and a sister and a sweetheart, too.

And is he, perchance, by them forgotten? Have all those wounds that they say time heals in the human heart been soothed by that gracious balm of a grateful and munificent government?

The Unknown Soldier. A term symbolic not only of the great army that lies in unnamed graves but of thousands of living dead men.....

* * *

All Camdenville, it seemed, was at the little railroad station the day Jim Elwell went away. He was not the only one. There were dozens just like him, young boys dressed up in their Sunday best to give them a brave appearance; garments that were to be shed in a few days in favor of issue uniforms handed out by grumpy quartermaster sergeants.

Going away to war? Mollie Elwell choked a little as Jim put his arms around her. Going away to war! Her son Jim! Going away maybe never to return. Her only son, that she had brought up so carefully and tenderly from babyhood.

Jim, who was now so tall and straight and broad-houldered and beautiful in his young manhood.

A few flags waved in false cheerfulness. The Camdenville brass band blared vociferously and sweatingly. Jim swung down from the step.

"Goodby, Prof.," and he wrung his father's hand and kissed his cheek. "Goodby, Mother," and Mollie clung to him with a brave smile.

"Goodby, pals," and he passed out impartial kisses to the twins, one of whom, it was true, was nothing more than a pal but the other the girl who shared with him that great secret that both had discovered that moonlit night beneath the elms.

Quicksands of Love

BY ADELE GARRISON

His Final Bolt

FOR a tense second after I burst through the door of Dicky's office, crying out that I claimed nothing save the right to an explanation of the vague, horrible accusation he had just made, no one of the little group moved or spoke. Dicky was seated at the front of his desk, Edith at the side, so close to him that his head was resting on one of her arms. With her other hand she was stroking his hair tenderly as might a comforting mother, and though the movement of her hand stopped, she did not take it away, but stared at me defiantly.

Dicky did not even raise his head at first. When he did it was to look at me with an infinite weariness and contempt and say dully:

"Go away."

But I was beyond being wounded by contempt or roused by jealousy. His mention of Junior had fused all my emotions into one—that of defending myself for him.

For I realized that there was need of defense, quick and intelligent for me. All my theories had been overturned by Edith's murmur:

"Would it make it easier for you if you told me?"

Dicky's anger against me had not been based upon anything which Edith Fairfax had told him. I scrutinized her wholly, all the more because as our leveled glances crossed, I saw that she gladly would welcome anything which would separate me from him. But her eyes were those of a lioness, not of a cobra.

I caught at the back of the nearest chair, held myself upright by it until I could get strength to answer Dicky's contemptuous direction.

"No, Dicky, I shall not go away until I have heard what this thing is of which you accuse me." I said at last. "I came here only by accident, to bring you this telegram which was brought to the house just now"—I tossed it to the table, and he let it lie unnoticed—"But I have overheard too much to let it pass."

Dicky struggled to his feet. I saw Edith's hand upon his sleeve trying to keep him back, guessed that she was trying to restrain his wrath in the fear that he would strike me, and womanlike—hated her for the effort. The next instant he was standing in front of me, hands clenched into fists at his side, and his voice, low but ravenous, beating upon my ears in angry, horrible words.

"You have heard too much to let it pass. You! Why, you treacherous devil from the pit, what if I tell you that I know what you have been doing? I found out in time, thank God. And then you talk of letting things pass."

I stared at him in horror, wondering if he had gone out of his mind. It seemed to me that nothing else could explain his ravings. Then I threw out my hand peremptorily.

"You are either insane or something terrible is going on of which I know nothing. I shall wait for the show of wrath to be the best answer to storms of wrath. And you have said too much not to finish. The vilest criminal in the land is entitled to know the charge against him. I demand that you tell me what you mean."

"She is right, Dicky," Edith Fairfax cried to him. "You must tell her—and hear her."

Dicky turned his face towards hers with the first hint of yielding. And I—should could have struck Edith across the mouth. It was intolerable that out whence to find out the horrible thing which Dicky was thinking should come to me—of this woman's pleading!

"All right," Dicky said abruptly at length to me. "I'll hear her, but alone. Go on home, Ede, and thank you for listening to my woes."

She put her hand upon his arm. I might not have been in the room.

"I want to hear nothing of this," she said. "But I hate to leave you two here together in a mood like this. Promise me——"

"Oh! I'll neither kill her nor myself," Dicky said with a raucous, horrible laugh, "although I'd like to do both. Hurry up, Ede, and get out of here. I want to get through with this job in a hurry."

She Got Rid of Those Two Bad Mornings

Menstruation is a perfectly natural process, but the painful part is NEEDLESS. Long study has absolutely conquered menstrual pain. Science now offers women reliable and complete relief—in a simple, utterly harmless tablet called midol.

This newest achievement of the laboratory has nothing to do with drastic habit-forming drugs that kill pain by benumbing the whole system. Midol acts directly on the organs affected by menstruation, and nowhere else. Yet relief and absolute comfort comes in five to seven minutes!

So, why have a twinge of pain—feel "low" or even uncomfortable? Or take anything to depress the heart or upset the system? All drug stores have midol in a thin aluminum box that tucks in purse or pocket—for 50 cents.

Fulton and Iberia To Vie for County Debate Championship

MT. GILEAD HAS BEST RECORD OF ALL TEAMS

Cardington Outfits Score Double Victory, but Are Eliminated

Mt. Gilead, Mar. 30—Mt. Gilead High school debaters made the best showing of the six high schools in the debates last Friday, in spite of the losing the triangle to Iberia. Cardington ranks next to Mt. Gilead in the points of victory.

Fulton and Iberia will debate Friday night for the county championship, by virtue of having the highest total score. At Johnsville, the score gave Iberia a lead. Likewise, the high score given the Fulton team at Edison, gave them the most points in the southern triangle.

Mt. Gilead's Margin

Mt. Gilead teams rank first with a victory margin of 23 points. The local school won at Iberia by 24 points and lost to Johnsville by one point.

Cardington High school won both ends of their debate and still lost. Cardington's margin is 15 points. Their affirmative team won by four points and the negative by 11 points.

Iberia, the winner of the northern triangle, ranks third with five points victory. Iberia won from Johnsville by 29 points, which was the biggest margin of victory gained by any team in the county, and lost to Mt. Gilead by 24 points.

Fulton ranks next with a margin of negative two. The Fulton negative defeated Edison by nine points and the affirmative lost to Cardington by 11 points.

Edison's marginal score is negative 16. The Edison affirmative lost to Fulton by nine points and the negative to Cardington by four points.

Johnsville is in last place with a score of minus 28. The affirmative lost to Iberia by 29 points and won over Mt. Gilead by one point.

Local school officials have scheduled a debate with Edison and are hoping also to schedule Cardington.

J. H. Van Der Vries, C. of C. Divisional Manager Appears at Kenton Club Luncheon

National Organization Official Urges Business Men To Search Out and Remedy Their Problems Through Cooperative Efforts; Open New Headquarters

Kenton, Mar. 30—Cooperative effort in searching out the problems facing business men today and in effecting remedies, was emphasized by John H. Van Der Vries, manager of the North Central division of the National Chamber of Commerce, in addressing the luncheon meeting of the Kenton chamber.

"You must recognize the new economic order of things and meet it in an intelligent way and not by artificial means," said the speaker. "The most effective way to meet these problems of competition is to cooperate through the chamber of commerce and establish a united front against the outside."

The appearance here of the national representative marked the formal opening of the new dining room in the offices of the chamber of commerce at the St. Nicholas hotel. The Kiwanis Club joined with the commerce members in the meeting.

Uniting of the two organizations in the meeting was lauded by the speaker as an important step toward building up community unity. "It is well when one or the other organization has gained the understanding that it alone is not sufficient."

Prosperity of America in these post war days is the result of the willingness of men to work together in organization and in cooperative movements, said Mr. Van Der Vries. Organized business effort along sane economic lines, has a money value to every person in the community.

The business man today, he said, cannot afford to lose sight of and interest in state and national problems and activities that vitally affect his own welfare either directly or indirectly. He pleaded that the present day problems and troubles be remedied as by mature men and bitterly flayed the artificial and sometimes childish methods sometimes used.

Now Enjoys Good Health

Relieved of Stomach Trouble, Nervousness. Gains 17 Pounds

"Anybody who has been benefited as I was by Tanlac could not do anything but praise this wonderful tonic," says Mrs. M. Wagoner, 101 Norton Court, Akron, Ohio whose amazing recovery has surprised her family.

"I was so run-down and weak that I was discouraged with life. The very thought of food distressed me terribly. No matter what I ate I would suffer for hours from heartburn and gas that bloated my stomach. Sweeping and making the beds was drudgery. And my nerves were in such shape that I could not sit still a moment.

"Tanlac changed my life. Gave me strength and energy to live every day, every hour, happily, to do my housework without tiring. It put my stomach in good condition so that I now eat everything without a sign of trouble or pain. It has built me up from 93 to 110 pounds. Everyone who is ailing should takes Tanlac."

Rampage in Iberia Lands Long Time Sleep in Jail

Mt. Gilead, Mar. 30—Nick Lassa, of the race of the vanishing American, who claims that his name means "Long Time Sleep," came into Morrow county yesterday from the great open spaces and created such a furor, that he landed in jail, where he likely will have ample time to put into practice the significance of his sobriquet.

The Indian and Bernard Rosebrook, of LaRue, an employe of the LaRue Telephone Company, were arrested yesterday, by Sheriff Tischer and Deputy John Van Atta, after the two had created considerable disturbance at the telephone office at Iberia. They were given a hearing before Probate Judge Ethel Elderton charges of intoxication and disturbing the peace. Rosebrock was fined $35, which was paid. Lassa was given a fine of $65, which he was unable to pay. He is resting in the county jail.

Create Disturbance

It seems that Rosebrook had business in Iberia and picked up the Indian in Marion. They drove to the Morrow county village, where they proceeded to make their presence felt at the telephone office. The officers were sent for, and when Lassa saw them, he jumped into Rosebrook's auto and made a hasty retreat. The officers pursued him and finally overtook him and placed him under arrest.

Lassa is an immense man and probably weighs more than 250 pounds. He stated that he formerly played football with Jim Thorpe, who is well known here.

Galion Music Teacher Gives Beethoven Concert Before Large Audience at School

Miss Bessie Todd Arranges Program as Tribute to Famous Composer To Arouse Keener Interest in His Compositions; Explains Numbers

Galion, Mar. 30—Miss Bessie Todd, local music instructor, presented a Beethoven concert last night to an appreciative audience of music lovers in the high school auditorium. The program was a distinct tribute to the great composer and was planned to display his versatality and arouse keener interest in his compositions.

Miss Todd made a very beneficial introductory talk sketching Beethoven's life and explaining the different types of music that would be interpreted. The program was presented by piano pupils of Miss Todd and of Mr. Shonert of Bucyrus, who were assisted by vocal and instrumental artists who added much to the event.

For a number of years Miss Todd has been active in bringing before Galion people talented musicians both local and professional. The affair of last night was another of the successful concerts showing her ability as an instructor and manager.

FLAMES SWEEP THROUGH LARGE BRICK BUILDING

100 Volunteer Fighters Aid Firemen; Loss Partially Covered by Insurance

Richwood, Mar. 30 — Fire of unknown origin this morning almost completely destroyed the $75,000 plant of the Richwood Clay Co. here.

Starting before daylight, flames swept through the large brick structure for several hours, defying efforts of the local fire department supported by about 100 volunteer fire-fighters. After the fury of the blaze was spent, there remained intact the engine room and the outside walls of the plant.

An alarm was sounded at five o'clock. The local department arrived at the scene a few minutes later and at that time the fire was sweeping through every section of the main part of the building. The flames apparently had started on the inside and had gained considerable headway before discovered.

No Estimate

No estimation of the damage was made today. With the exception of the engine room equipment all machinery in the building including several valuable clay-working machines were completely destroyed. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Aided in their work by the brick outer walls of the structure, firemen were able to prevent the spread of the fire to the mill yard, where a large supply of the company's product, clay tile, was stacked ready for the market.

Two kilns of recently finished tile were lost in the fire as well as a large stock of green tile, fresh from the molds and ready for the kiln baking process.

Efforts of the fire fighters to save the building were directed in a large way by F. A. McAlister, manager of the clay company plant, who was among the first summoned to the scene. He was forced to return to his home during the morning on the verge of a breakdown from sheer exhaustion.

Employes numbering between 15 and 20 men will be thrown out of work by the fire.

Company officials were not prepared to announce plans for the future today.

ADDRESSES CLUB

Galion, Mar. 30—Kiwanians were addressed yesterday noon at their regular weekly luncheon, by C. C. Bassett of New York, who discussed "Rayon" in a very interesting manner. Bassett represents the Viscose Co. of New York and was well qualified to speak on the subject chosen.

MORE THAN 800 TAKE PART IN SHOVEL SCHOOL

Certificates of Merit Awarded to Students; Summary of Work Compiled

More than 800 youths took advantage of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. high school during the winter, a check-up and final summary showed today. The school has closed for the season and certificates of merit have been awarded.

The fall semester of the night school began Oct. 18 and ended Dec. 17. The second semester opened in January and closed a few days ago. All classes were held on the second floor of the employment building at the Shovel under the supervision of able instructors.

Forty-eight pupils were enrolled in one designing class and 52 in another. Both were under the direction of John Quigley. Eighty-eight were enrolled in the mathematics class taught by R. Ehresman. R. Wikoff had 108 pupils under his supervision in electricity classes.

Executive Training

B. Ferguson had charge of two classes in the teaching of "Strength of Materials." One class numbered 84 and another was composed of 92 persons. Classes in executive training, under E. L. Usner, totaled 42 students in all, while W. Wilson taught two classes in related shop practice.

The night school not only prepares youths for work in the Shovel plant but aids them for work in any factory. The school was a greater success this season than ever before. F. W. Bacon, as educational director of the Steam Shovel, had general supervision over the school.

Apprentice classes in mathematics, drawing and production were held during the winter also. L. E. Foster and L. M. Thomas had charge of mathematic classes. T. J. Fredricks and R. W. Ehresman taught drawing, and W. H. Wilson had charge of production classes. J. Beatty taught a class in shovel assembly and operation every Tuesday during the winter.

Diplomas or certificates of merit are given to all those who successfully pass in the work.

TWO PERSONS INJURED IN FIRE AT CLEVELAND

Cleveland, Mar. 30—Fire swept a two-story business and apartment block on the west side here early today. William Gessner, 44, proprietor of a bakery where the fire is believed to have originated, was overcome by smoke and taken to a hospital. Several persons were driven from their apartments.

Mrs. John Wescott carried her son John, aged six, from the burning building and then collapsed.

STABILIZATION OF RADIO SEEN WITH RULINGS

Manufacturers Believe Equipment Sales Will Total $750,000,000 in 1927

Washington, Mar. 30—Stabilization of the radio industry by the federal radio commission, which today was completing hearings on regulatory measures, assures radio equipment sales of about $750,000,000 this year, according to manufacturers and experts attending the conferences.

In the elimination of chaos from the air, A. H. Grebe, of New York, sees the beginning of a new radio era. Radio will develop within a few years to one of the major industries of the country, in Grebe's opinion.

The curve of radio equipment sales which was moving upward rapidly early in 1926, promising a new record, suddenly slumped in November as the result of poor reception conditions. Sales of the year are believed to have been little if any above those of 1925.

"Assurances given the public that the government will regulate radio and that the listener soon will be getting full benefit of his receiving set, means a big jump in sales," he said.

Federal regulation also means a greater perfection of both receiving and broadcasting apparatus, and consequently greater service to the listener, according to Grebe. With broadcasting stabilized manufacturers are expected to increase their effort toward more efficient apparatus, while regulations of the commission will force the same improvement by broadcasters.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

Still a Boy!

Sh! Sixty old years and well we know it—
But 'that Kruschen feeling' doesn't show it.

Are you "getting on" in years? Have you begun to dread the approach of old age?

There is no reason why you should—if you're healthy. Anyhow, it's a mistake to reckon up your age in years. There's many a man of forty who has already got one foot in the grave, while his next-door neighbor, who confesses cheerfully to sixty, has still a score or more years of healthy activity in front of him. Which, then, is the "older" of the two?

The healthy man can snap his fingers at the calendar. He knows he's going to enjoy his "old age" with just as much relish as he enjoyed his youth. Because he has been careful to keep his blood pure and virile, the blood of youth still courses through his veins.

The way to keep the blood in this happy and healthy condition is to take the "little daily dose" of Kruschen Salts.

Each morning dose you take—tasteless in your breakfast cup of coffee or tea—is a perfect blend of the six vital salts your body needs for its healthy life. You must get those salts from somewhere, or your blood will become impure and debilitated, you will get run down and depressed, an easy prey to rheumatism, gout, indigestion, 'flu and any epidemic that may come along. Kruschen Salts are those salts. Hence the necessity for the "little daily dose."

The effect of Kruschen is not only to keep the blood pure and to drive all impurities out of the body. It has a tonic influence on the whole system, bracing you up physically and mentally, filling you with the joy of life and cheery self-confidence that passing years are powerless to mar.

Get a 60 cent bottle of Kruschen Tablets now and begin a new life tomorrow. You'll feel many years younger before you are many days older.

Tasteless in Tea or Coffee

HERE'S MORE ABOUT

GAS RATES

B. Good, were in attendance, in addition to Mayor Hazen and City Solicitor Geran.

"Attorneys for the cities recommend the 55-cent rate for two years but do not advise their councils to accept the 60-cent rate for the additional two years," Mr. Mouser stated. "We agreed with the gas company, however, to submit the proposal covering a four-year period and that is what I am doing tonight.

"It is entirely up to you gentlemen whether any or all of this compromise proposal is to be accepted. I believe, however, that you should not hesitate in accepting the 55-cent schedule for the first two years."

One point is worthy of consideration in connection with the 60-cent proposal for the second two-year period, Mr. Mouser said. This is the question of whether, at the end of the first two years, the company will make a request for new rates considerably higher than the 60-cent schedule which it now offers.

Salient Points

Mr. Mouser's talk brought out these salient points regarding the proposed settlement and details of the compromise offer which came from the gas company:

The compromise proposal came from Mr. Cross, executive head of the Logan Gas Co. in Ohio, last week while hearing on the rate controversy was in progress before the state utilities commission. This was the first time in history, Mouser stated, that a request for compromise ever came from a utility company at that stage of a contest.

"Utility companies do not ordinarily propose a compromise unless they believe a case is going against them and they are ready to make concessions," Mouser stated.

During the compromise negotiations the city attorneys called in W. H. Weiss, Cincinnati consulting engineer who has acted as their expert investigator in the two-year contest, and H. R. Allensworth of Columbus, who is reputed to be one of the ablest appraisal engineers in the country. Mr. Allensworth was technical advisor and investigator for the city of Columbus in the recent rate fight there.

Say Rate Is Fair

Both Weiss and Allensworth pronounced the gas company's offer as exceptionally fair to the public and advised acceptance. Prior to the gas company's offer of a compromise, the city attorneys had practically decided to employ Allensworth to assist in handling the rate fight during its final stages. Should the compromise negotiations collapse and the fight be resumed, Allensworth will be employed to strengthen the cities' forces, Mouser indicated.

In submitting his compromise proposal, President Cross of the gas company went over the heads of the company's attorneys, ignoring them entirely in the proceeding, Mouser stated. Afterward Cross announced that this action was taken because numerous mistakes had been made in handling the case for the company.

Cites Reduction

The compromise terms will give the cities a substantial reduction in rates during the next two years as compared with the contested schedule which the gas company has been collecting under bond since June, 1925, Mouser said.

The cities will be assured immediate pipe line extensions which will provide gas for approximately 15,000 persons in the 34 cities who have been without gas service during the last two years. These extensions are to be made without cost to the consumers.

This free extension service provision is regarded by Mouser and other city attorneys as an exceptionally important concession on the part of the gas company. It more than counter-balances the amount of money which the company would pay back to consumers should refunds be required for collections made under the contested rates, it is claimed.

"Didn't Quibble"

"We didn't quibble so much about refunds as about extensions and service," Mouser said. "Under the compromise terms agreed upon, practically every citizen who wants gas has the guarantee of getting it without cost for installation of pipe lines and equipment. Without this guarantee the gas company would be in a position to grant or refuse service as it wills.

In order for applicants for service to obtain action under these conditions it might be necessary for each individual to appear before the state utilities commission to present his claim."

Many of the 15,000 persons now without gas service because of the company's refusal to make extensions are in Marion, Mouser said.

To show where Marion and other cities would benefit from the compromise, Mouser pointed out the difference between the proposed rates and those which will be paid during the next two years in 38 cities which originally engaged in the fight against the present contested schedule and later dropped out of the contest. These 38 communities accepted five-year contracts offered by the gas company which continued the present contested rate two years and established a 60-cent flat rate for the last three years.

Cites Benefits

"These 38 cities will not only be paying more for their gas during the next two years than will be paid by the 34 who continued the fight and will benefit from this compromise, but they have no guarantee on extensions. If the gas company sees fit, it can charge consumers for the cost of extensions in all 34 of these cities," Mouser said.

One year of the five year contract period in the 38 communities which abandoned the fight has expired. This leaves only one year for continuance of the contested rate, which provides a minimum charge of 95 cents for the first 500 feet of gas and a graduated scale, going upward, for additional gas used, based on 1,000 cubic foot units.

This is the same rate which Marion is now paying and which was the cause of the controversy before the state utilities commission. During the last three years, these cities will pay on a flat 60-cent rate with a minimum charge of $1.00 for the first 500 cubic feet. This is the same rate which would be in effect in Marion during the second two years of the four-year period proposed in the gas company's complete compromise offer.

Copies of a typewritten statement covering details of the compromise proposal were handed members of Council by Mouser. This statement contained a comparison between rates in the 38 cities which accepted the five-year contract and the 34 which figure in the compromise negotiations.

"The following table," the statement reads, "is given to show the comparison between that which consumers in 34 towns will be paying next year on a monthly basis for gas if a compromise is accepted and that which each consumer in 38 communities will be paying:

Thirty-eight communities, 95-cent minimum on 500 feet: 500 feet, .95; 1,000 feet, $1.17; 2,000 feet, $1.62; 3,000 feet, $2.07; 4,000 feet, $2.52; 5,000 feet, $2.97; 6,000 feet $3.47; 7,000 feet, $3.97.

Thirty-four communities, 55-cent rate, $1.10 minimum on 2,000 feet: 500 feet, $1.10; 1,000 feet, $1.10; 2,000 feet, $1.10; 3,000 feet, $1.65; 4,000 feet, $2.20; 5,000 feet, $2.75; 6,000 feet, $3.30; 7,000 feet, $3.85.

"Now let us see," the statement continues, "what will happen as a comparison during the second year. Bear in mind that one year of the five-year contract has expired and that at the end of another year from approximately this date, communities accepting the five-year contract will be paying a dollar minimum for 500 cubic feet or less and 60 cents for each additional 1,000 cubic feet. This table reveals truthfully the comparison:

Thirty-eight communities, 60 cent rate: 500 feet, $1; 1,000 feet, $1.30; 2,000 feet, $1.90; 3,000 feet, $2.50; 4,000 feet, $3.10; 5,000 feet, $3.70; 6,000 feet, $4.30; 7,000 feet, $4.90.

Thirty-four communities, 55-cent rate: 500 feet, $1.10; 1,000 feet, $1.10; 2,000 feet, $1.10; 3,000 feet $1.65; 4,000 feet, $2.20; 5,000 feet, $2.75; 6,000 feet $3.30; 7,000 feet, $3.85.

"If a compromise would be accepted for two years under a 55 cent rate, each individual consumer in Marion as well as every other consumer in the 34 communities under the proposal will save $4, based upon actual statistics per average yearly consumption, for the first year of the two year period in comparison with the payments made by persons in the 38 communities," Mouser stated.

"There are 7,700 users of this utility product in the city of Marion," the statement reads. "In one year this will save the consumers collectively four times 7,700 or $30,800. This controversy, including expense and cost of records will not have cost the city of Marion over $2,400. This means that the fight has cost each consumer less than 33 cents.

"Every consumer in the 34 towns who uses 7,000 cubic feet in any one month will save $1.05 per month over every consumer in the 38 towns. You will also bear in mind in order to form a proper mental picture of actual results to be obtained that during the period of controversy that the consumers in the 38 towns have paid this same rate as those in 34 towns have paid under bond. Who will have benefited in this controversy? The consumer who has contested the rate, or the one who has through his counsel entered into a five-year contract which was entered into during the controversy?

"There are approximately 50,000 consumers in 34 towns to be effected by the same. In the first year of the proposed settlement of the controversy, 50,000 consumers will save an average of $4.00 each per annum, or $200,000 in comparison with those in the 38 towns. The average consumer uses annually approximately 85,000 cubic feet of gas or an average of 7,000 cubic feet a month. During five months of the year when the season is mild the average consumption is for cooking and heating purposes, approximately 4,000 cubic feet per month. During each of these five months the small consumer will have a very material and important saving of the second year in comparison with consumers in the 38 towns, and will save 90c per 4,000 cubic feet during the five months as aforesaid."

The typewritten statement, which covered four closely typed pages, also contained a review of the rate controversy, beginning with the first protests filed in 1924 against the Logan Gas Co.'s proposal to collect a service charge of 75 cents without furnishing any gas in return.

Mr. Mouser stated that the compromise terms, especially in regard to the two-year 55-cent rate, have met with general expressions of approval in the cities affected, with few exceptions.

J. H. Huffman, member of the state utilities commission and son-in-law of Governor Donahey, reports, according to Mouser's statement, that he has received numerous communications from city officials and business men declaring the compromise to be exceptionally fair to the public.

However, if councils here and in other cities decide to reject the settlement, their attorneys will resume their fight with increased vigor and augmented forces," Mouser informed the local council members.

LOCAL QUINTETS WIN GAMES ON Y. M. C. A. COURT

Baptists Defeat Green Camp and Epworths Trim Prospect High

Trinity Baptists, Marion Church League basketball champions and holders of that title in the Northwestern Ohio district, last night defeated Green Camp high school boys, Marion County champions, 13 to 12 in an overtime battle on the Y. M. C. A. court.

Without a doubt it was the greatest basketball exhibition seen on the Y. M. C. A. floors this season. Thrills and excitement made up the bulk of the contest, which was featured by excellent guarding of both teams.

The score at the end of the third quarter stood 10 to 8 with Green Camp leading. With only a few minutes to go, Bob Yazel, Trinity forward, dropped in the bucket that tied the score at 10 all. That's the way the regular playing period ended.

It was Merchant's free throw in the last seconds of the overtime period combined with Worden's timely field goal that won the game for the Baptists. Earl Furniss was responsible for two points credited the Green Camp outfit but was unable to connect for another basket.

Great Game

Both teams played a great game of basketball. The first quarter ended 0 to 0 and at the half the Baptists were leading as a result of field goals by Worden and Yazel while Frank Furniss was making only two points via the free throw route for Green Camp. E. Furniss went on a scoring spree in the third period and, with the able assistance of his teammates placed the visitors in the lead by the slight two-point margin which was overcome by Yazel in the last minutes.

Epworth M. E. cagers of this city downed Prospect High 26 to 17, in the first game of the night. Epworth had a lineup that included Chuck Evans, Fetter, Garrett, Fisher, Bush, Shults, Partridge, Bud Cram, Stafford, Lingo and Morrison. They outclassed the Prospect crew but the boys from the southern end of the county never gave up.

The score at the quarter found Epworth leading 4 to 3. At the half, the locals had increased their lead to 15 to 6 and at the close of the third quarter were leading 20 to 8. Prospect staged a wonderful comeback in the final period but could not overtake the Epworth lads.

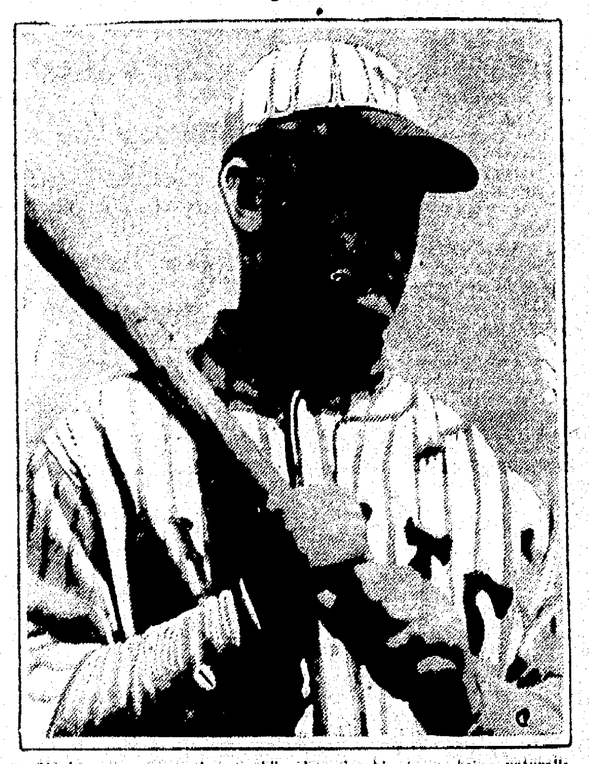
GRANDSTAND FOR DERBY

The mammoth grandstand which is being built at Epsom Downs, is expected to be finished in time for the great Derby next June. The structure, which is of reinforced concrete, will hold 30,000 people, and will contain royal suites, drawing rooms, dining rooms, vestibules, lounges and terraces.

DEARTH OF SOUTHPAWS

Indications point to an unusual dearth of star southpaw pitchers in the big leagues for the coming baseball season.

Will Hornsby, at the Plate, Stand for This on Bench?



Having once managed a world's championship team, being naturally headstrong, and knowing that he is the outstanding star of the team—

BY NORMAN E. BROWN

THAT is the question close to students of the game, men who know the personalities of both Hornsby and McGraw in particular, are asking as the Giants round into form for the coming scramble.

It has always been said of McGraw that he does the thinking for his men—that they are automatons in his hands. Men who refuse to obey him leave the Giants—be they good or more than good. Pitcher Rosey Bill Ryan was "sold down the river" because he ignored one order from McGraw in pitching to Babe Ruth in a world's series. McGraw ordered him to "throw it in the dirt." Ryan decided otherwise and Ruth leaned on the ball.

Hornsby comes to the Giants as the dominating figure of the National League. He led the batsmen of the circuit for six years. Three of those seasons he turned in an average above .400.

His refusal to take orders handicapped Branch Rickey's efforts as manager of the Cardinals before Hornsby succeeded him and his independence on and off the field gave Owner Sam Breadon of the Cardinals gray hairs. The players referred to him, without affection, as "the king." Hornsby called his own plays at all times with the Cardinals. His work as pilot of the team in their successful fight for the flag and the world pennant last season stamped him as a heady, brainy player, regardless of his other shortcomings.

McGraw, however, seldom makes fish of one and flesh of the other. Hornsby will have to take orders just like the rest of them although he is field captain.

It will be interesting to observe just how the two "Napoleons" get along.

STONEHAM DENIES THAT M'GRAW IS SEEKING TO UNLOAD HIS STOCK IN NEW YORK GIANTS

President of Club Says McGraw's Secret Visit Was for Purpose of Discussing Hornsby and Eddie Roush; Declares Stock Was Not Even Mentioned

By DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, Mar. 30—Unqualified denial that John McGraw's surreptitious visit here was prompted by a desire to sell his stock in the Giants to either Tex Rickard or "Fuzzy" Anderson, St. Louis promoter, because he had gone heavily "on the nut" in Florida real estate was entered today by Charles A. Stoneham, president of the club. The visit ended yesterday afternoon just as mysteriously as it began when McGraw boarded a train at 4:30 o'clock for Chattanooga but Stoneham neglected to explain the stealth with which this departure was achieved.

Neither did he account from the fact that the Giants' office staff was instructed to inform callers that "Mr. McGraw had left town." When actually the man was conferring with Stoneham at the Hotel Commodore, four blocks away. Stoneham, in fact, denied that such a conference took place.

Another Reason

He accounted for McGraw's visit by declaring that illness in the Stoneham family had prevented him from meeting his manager in the South and that it had become necessary for them to get together in order to devise some cunning scheme whereby it might be possible to overcome Eddie Roush's natural repugnance to a sum like $25,000. The matter of awakening the interest of Rogers Hornsby in anything less than $120,000 for his stock in the Cardinals also was discussed at length, it was said.

To a direct question about the allegation that McGraw was trying to unload his Giant stock, Stoneham said:

Nothing To It

"As far as I know, there's nothing to it. Mr. McGraw seemed very happy and the matter of stock wasn't mentioned. He knows that if he wanted to sell his shares, he could get more for them from me than he could elsewhere.

"We talked about the club and, when he left, McGraw felt that he would be able to persuade Hornsby to sell his stock in the Cardinals when they get together in Chattanooga on Thursday. I understand that he will invite Roush to meet him there, too, and maybe they will be able to iron out their differences.

"We have gone as far as we care to with Roush, for when I made the trade I thought he would be willing to play for the Giants for the money he was demanding and not getting in Cincinnati. It seems not, however; so we have increased our bid several times and now we will go no higher.

About Hornsby

"Hornsby is another matter. He is in condition, is a big help to the young players and has given our club a fighting spirit it lacked during the last two years. But he is making one mistake. He is confusing the value of his stock with the value of stock that carries with it a controlling interest. Hornsby, I know, has been offered his price of $105 a share but the offer is contingent upon the necessity of the buyer getting a controlling interest. However, Sam Breadon wants to stay in baseball and won't sell, so there you are. I think, however, that McGraw will be able to straighten things out with Hornsby and his attorney, William Fahey, when they meet."

In regard to the story of McGraw's effort to dispose of his own stock, Stoneham pointed out that their agreement called for no sale of stock by either man without letting the other have first bid.

Four Marion Youths Get Letters at Ohio Wesleyan

Fourth Marion boys, all sophomores, are recipients of awards made recently by the athletic department of Ohio Wesleyan University.

Alston Morrison, 285 Duluth-av, and Jack Houghton, 561 Girard-av both won a varsity "W" in wrestling, Morrison in the 125-lb. class and Houghton in the 175-lb. division. Both are members of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Wallace Schneider, 258 Forest-st, won a letter in varsity gym and John Bartram, 402 S. State-st, a manager.

Marion Youth Outstanding Frosh Athlete at College

ONE of the outstanding freshman athletes in University of Detroit during the last year has been Ray "Nay" Navin, of this city. Ray was a graduate of St. Mary's High School.

Navin was a member of last season's great freshman eleven, playing right end and proving to be a real contender for that position on next year's varsity.

His next step was into the ranks of basketball where he proved to be an up-and-coming star. He was elected captain of the Frosh five and led his team through a successful season, winning 17 out of 18 starts. Besides being captain he was high point man on the team, having an average of five field goals a game.

FIRST BILLIARD CHAMP

The first recognized billiard champion of America was Michael Phela of New York, who defeated John Seereiter in a match for the title held in Detroit in 1859. Phelan retained the title for four years, meeting all comers, and finally losing to Dudley Kavanagh, who remained the champion for two years. In those days the championship matches were for 1,200 points, aprons, played on a pocket table, with four balls.

HOW EXPERTS JUDGE CIGARS

Men who know cigars judge quality on five points: (1) Burn; (2) Aroma; (3) Flavor or taste; (4) Color; (5) Workmanship. Which do you count the most important?

In our own organization there is no complete agreement as to which feature is the main reason for the growing popularity of San Felice at 5c. Is it the blend or its mildness or other qualities? Try one and judge it point by point. What feature do you think is responsible for the amazing increase in demand for San Felice—a demand which has doubled and trebled? Perhaps it is the mild really cigar you are looking for. It costs only 5c to find out. So try a San Felice today—then you'll know.

Five Contests in Second Round at Y. M. C. A. Today; Semi-Finals Come Thursday

Vernon Heights Wins, 28 to 4, with Three Men on Court During First Round of Eighth Grade Tournament; Hughie Shults Managing Events

FIVE games were to be played this afternoon in the second round of the seventh and eighth grade basketball tournaments being held on the Y. M. C. A. courts in charge of Hughie Shults, of Harding High.

In the seventh grade division, Greenwood was to play Oakland, the two Pearl-st classes were to play each other, in the eighth grade class, Greenwood was to meet Central High Room No. 22, Vernon Heights was to play Room 17 of Central High, and Rooms 18 and 20 were to tie up. All games were scheduled for the lower court.

Greenwood, Oak, Olney, Pearl No. 1 and Pearl No. 2 were winners in the first round of the seventh grades yesterday afternoon while Greenwood, Central Room 22, Vernon Heights, Central 19, and Central 18, survived in the eighth grade tourney.

Vernon Outstanding

The outstanding team, or rather trio, was Vernon Heights eighth graders. That crew had only three men on the court and defeated a quintet from Central Junior High 28 to 4. It will be a wonder what will happen today when the entire team moves into action.

Greenwood seventh graders had a tough time handing Oakland school trimming but managed to land on the end of a 10 to 8 count. Oak-st seventh grade walloped Silver, 33 to 0. Olney had one of the best quintets entered in the seventh grade tourney.

Olney won from State on forfeit and will not have to play any more until tomorrow. It drew a bye in the second round. It will meet the winner of the Greenwood-Oak clash Thursday afternoon. Pearl-st No. 1 ruined Vernon Heights seventh graders with a score of 17 to 0. Pearl-st No. 2 served Greenwood in about the same manner, winning 25 to 5.

Eighth Grade

In the eighth grade tournament Greenwood had little trouble with Room 21 of Central and was credited with a 16 to 4 victory in the initial game of the meet. Central Room battled to a win over State, nosing out its opponents 14 to 11 in an interesting affair. Vernon Heights, as has been said before, romped over Central 28 to 7.

The war between Central 19 and Central 17 proved the most exciting of the day. Central 19 won by two points being chalked up with a 16 to 14 victory. Central 18 won over Silver 9 to 6, in the final eighth grade game of the day.

Referees of the contests were Mcineh and Cram, both of Harding High while Hughie Shults managed the events. The semi-finals will be played Thursday afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock, and finals will be called Friday afternoon.

The average stride of a sprinter is from 7 feet 6 inches to 8 feet.

WOOSTER ATHLETES REST DURING VACATION

First Baseball Game with Baldwin-Wallace on April 23

Wooster, O., Mar. 30—Wooster College athletes are having a week off from practice while they are home for the spring recess, Mar. 30 to Apr. 6. The track squad has been drilling both indoors and outdoors while Coaches Munson and Swigart prepare the runners for the C A C relays at Cleveland Apr. 16. The baseball practice has been little more than work for the battery candidates.

The first baseball game will be Apr. 23 when Worth Collins, former four-letter man at Wooster will bring his Baldwin Wallace team here. The Wooster team will play seventeen games this spring which includes Oberlin here Color Day May 14, Ohio State here on Decoration Day and Ohio Wesleyan for the commencement game, June 11.

Wooster will enter two relay teams in the meet at Cleveland. Captain Crothers, with three sophomores Hanna, Harding and Monroe, are entered in the mile relay. In the two mile relay Crothers, McMinn, Paul and Ackerman have been entered. These teams were picked temporarily on the strength of the showing made before the recess. There may be a change or two, depending on the showing made in the final tryouts after vacation.

OHIO NORTHERN IS PREPARING FOR TRACK

Holds Daily Workouts at Ada School; First Meet with Oberlin, April 23

Kenton, Mar. 30—Daily workouts preparatory to the opening of the annual track season have been started at Ohio Northern University, Ada, under the direction of Coach Claud Shearer. The first meet is scheduled with Oberlin on Apr. 23.

Despite the fact that Northern's track representatives will be handicapped to some extent with the loss of Earl Mangus, one of the high point getters last year, several veterans have reported for early workouts. Among them are H. M. Anderson, cross country man, "Shorty" Long, captain of last year's team, Walpole and Maloney.

Coach Shearer is placing high hopes in the likely looking bunch of candidates who have reported so far and is confident that the university this year will attain high rank in field sports among other Ohio colleges.

Both Long and Walpole are hard at work putting the shots, while Maloney is expected to star again this year in the middle distance events. Working with him are Koli, Goodell, Steward, Craig, Searlin and Bowers.

Another promising mainstay this season is Campbell, star of last year, who is working out in preparation for the pole vault, high jump and the hurdles.

Those reporting for track practice are: For the distance Stoner, Anderson Harvey, Vickip and Shackleford; for the dash event, Anderson, Hartley, Smith, Heft and Grimm. These men will also take part in the relay event.

Others reporting are: Beetles, broad jump; Snow, high hurdles; Al Smith, low hurdles; Franz, Long and Cameron, shot put and discus; Clark, high jump and Lehman, javelin.

Nominating, RAY MOREHART

Because he was traded to the Yankees by the White Sox last fall as a utility infielder and may find himself a regular with the champions before April 12.

Because his success in camp to date has been a lefthanded guffaw at the Pittsburgh Pirates for turning him loose four years ago.

Because he won fame as a three letter man in sports at Austin College, Sherman, Texas, before getting the Piratical once over.

Because his work at Flint, Mich., later caused the White Sox to give him a trial in 1924, farm him to Wichita for a year and then recall him. Because he held the thankless job last season of subbing for Eddie Collins. And because he may have the last laugh on the Sox for trading him to a pennant winning team instead of giving him Edward's job. For it's hinted now that he may replace Mark Koenig in the Yankee infield.

FT. WAYNE WINS

Chicago, Mar. 30—Fort Wayne's professional basketball quintet was further entrenched in second place today as a result of a 30-to-17 victory over the Chicago Bruins here last night. In a preliminary tilt, the girls' team from London, Ont., fell before the Taylor Trunk Girls of Chicago, 28 to 6.

THOMAS GETS DECISION

Chicago, Mar. 30—Joey Thomas, St. Paul bantamweight, today holds a decision over Tiger Jack Burns of California, scored at the end of eight fast rounds in last night's windup event at the Lincoln Club show. Because of Thomas' longer reach, Burns could not get to him.

WAITE HIGH IS ELIMINATED IN INITIAL ROUND

Second Round Gets Under Way Today; Complete Scores Given

Chicago Mar. 30—One Ohio basketball quintet remained in the running in the national tourney at Chicago today. Dover High, state champions, defeated Northeast High of Kansas City, 21 to 17, in the first round of play. Waite High of Toledo, also entered in the tournament, met defeat at the hands of Grand Firds, N. D. The score was 28 to 21.

London, Ky., and Safford Ariz., will face each other when second round play in the National Interscholastic basketball tournament gets under way at the University of Chicago today.

The largest field ever gathered at the meet, representing many sections of the United States, is here to battle for the national championship. It is too early as yet to get an accurate line on the most formidable contenders.

The tourney started at a fast clip yesterday when Safford defeated Franklin, N. H., 30 to 20. This pace with few exceptions was maintained throughout the first round session.

Complete first round scores follow:

Safford, Ariz., 30; Franklin, N. H., 20.

London, Ky., 15; Muscatine, Ia., 12.

Lincoln, Nebr., 71; Alpine, Tenn, 9.

Huron, S. D., 22; Greenville, S. C., 20.

Grand Fords, N. D., 28; Waite High, Toledo, 21.

Fairmont, W. Va., 20; Tallahassee, Ga., 13.

Morton, Cicerto, 29; Durant, Okla., 19.

Winfield, Kas., 26; Aberdeen, S. D., 23.

Vienna, Ga., 53; Minersville, Utah, 28.

Dover, O., 21; Northeast High, Kansas City, 17.

Colorado Springs, 28; Deerfield, Highland Park, Ill., 19.

Bothell, Wash., 29; Burlington, Vermont, 15.

Pocatello, Idaho, 26; Durham, N. C., 24.

PLAN TO BREED AND TRAIN POLO PONIES

Rich California Sportsmen Arrange To Use Ranch in Santa Clara Valley

San Francisco, Mar. 30—Capitalizing the reputation of California as the home of the world's best polo ponies, a group of San Francisco sportsmen have arranged to breed and to train California polo ponies on wholesale scale.

A ranch in the southern part of the Santa Clara Valley will be turned over to the development of mounts for mallet-wielders the world over. Comprising 5,000 acres of land, the ranch can easily accommodate 200 ponies, Norman S. Trevis, Jr., a San Francisco sportsman and one of the sponsors of the project, declared today.

"This ranch is splendidly suited for training work and also enough hilly terrain to give the ponies sureness of foot."

The stock used, Trevis said, will be the original California polo pony, which is now in demand wherever polo is played. "At first," Trevis said, "the big California horses were ridiculed; but now it is realized that the bigger they are the more advantage they have in the milling. Our California ponies are now used, whenever available, not only in the east, but also in Great Britain."

Mexican trainers will drill the ponies in the niceties of their work, Trevis added, as California-Mexican grooms are unexcelled for the task.

A good pony in California is worth from $2,000 to $3,000, Trevis estimated. This price, however, is merely an F. O. B. quotation and the eastern or European poloist might pay as high as $5,000 before he actually has his horse between his knees.

And, to keep the project from being entirely frivolous, the 5,000 acre ranch will also be stocked with cows.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

At Atlanta—Tiger Flowers, Atlanta, knocked out Soldier Jones, New York, first round.

At Albany—Danny Cooney, Philadelphia, defeated Mickey Cangro, Staten Island, 12 rounds.

At Milwaukee—Floyd Hybert, Cleveland, defeated Howard Bentz, Milwaukee, 10 rounds.

ENTIRELY NEW CLUB

Pittsfield, which finished last in the Eastern League race last year, will take to the field this season with new club officials, a new manager, and a team made up wholly of new players.

COMPS STILL LEADING STAR BOWLING LEAGUE

Win Two Games from Stereos; Linos in Second Place and Eds in Third

Compositors retained their lead in the Star Bowling League last night by defeating the Stereotypists two games in a regular league match on the Y. M. C. A. alleys. They won the first game by a slight margin of four pins but copped the second 708 to 655.

The Comps have won 15 games and lost seven. Linos are in second place with 12 victories and eight defeats and Eds are occupying the third berth with an even break of 10 and 10. The Stereos are in the cellar having won five and lost 15 contests.

BOSTON WINS

Defeat Chicago Black Hawks and May Meet Rangers In Hockey Finals

New York, Mar. 30—As a result of their flashy 6 to 1 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks here last night, the Boston Bruins are practically assured of meeting the New York Rangers in the American group finals of the National Hockey League. The Bruins play the Hawks again tomorrow in Boston and the Sextet having the highest total score for the two games will play the Rangers.

The other play-off between Les Canadiens and the Maroons in Montreal, resulted in a 1 to 1 deadlock and another contest will be held, with the winner meeting the Ottawa Senators in the international group finals.

Marion Buicks Win Three Games in League Bowling Match With Richman Five

Midland Mutuals and Motorcycles To Roll Later in Week; Games Postponed; Bradley Drugs Still Lead in National League Race

THE Marion Buicks last night defeated Richmans in three games during a regular National League bowling match on the Y. M. C. A. alleys. The Midland Mutuals and Motorcycles will roll their games later in the week. The contests were postponed last night.

Wheeler led the Buicks to victory with a score of 205 in the last game and a high total of 580 pins for the three contests. W. Baldauf was high for the Richman crew. He rolled 211 in the final tilt and had a total of 582 points for the three game match.

Only two more rounds remain in the National Bowling League and the greatest fight for first place is being between Bradley Drugs and the Midland Mutuals. The Drugs are leading at present but what the result will be after the Motorcycles and Mutuals roll their postponed game is a matter of conjecture.

The Motorcycle outfit is rumbled a strong third and may do anything in fact, there have been more upsets in the National League this season than ever before and the basket may again topple during the next two weeks. The Drugs began tumbling Monday night when they lost two games to Smart & Waddell.

Here's the summary for last night's games:

CONCERT WILL BE HEARD OVER WTAM

Broadcast on Thursday

The Cleveland Symphony Orchestra will again be on the air at 8:15 Thursday night, from WTAM, Cleveland. The orchestra has been giving a series of concerts from the Cleveland station but has not been heard during the last four weeks.

Hans Barth will present the "Half Hour with Great Composers" through WEAF, New York, and associated stations of the red network, at 8:30 Thursday night. The half hour will be devoted to the works of Brahms.

The third episode of the series of musical programs being broadcast by WJZ, and other stations of the blue network will be heard at 9 o'clock, Thursday night, when the song tour of the country will be resumed in Alabama. The trip will take the soloists through Southern states and melodies of that section of the country will be prominent in the program.

Glee Club Program

The Brown University Glee Club will offer a program through WPG, Atlantic City, at 9 o'clock, Thursday night. At the same hour, WEBH, Chicago, will present a banquet entertainment, featuring popular speakers.

Regular gala night will again dominate at WLW, Cincinnati, featuring the Sky Terriers and other noted popular artists from that station.

WAIU, Columbus, will offer its regular Thursday night farm talk at 7 o'clock but will have no musical program to follow. The microphone probably will close about 7:30 o'clock.

4 out of 5 start too late

Among the people you see today, four out of five past forty (and many younger) are victims of Pyorrhea—simply because they started too late to protect teeth and gums.

Pyorrhea starts with tender, bleeding gums. Unchecked, it undermines youth and health and often results in loss of teeth, neuritis, ulcers, rheumatism or other serious diseases.

But have no fear. If you start in time, you can prevent or check the inroads of Pyorrhea. See your dentist at least twice a year. And start using Forhan's for the Gums.

This dentifrice thwarts Pyorrhea or checks it. It is the formula of R. J. Forhan, D. D. S., a recognized specialist in Pyorrhea.

Forhan's firms the gums, keeps them healthy. It protects teeth and keeps them white.

Don't gamble with health! Start the Forhan morning-and-night habit, now. Teach your children to use it, too, as health-insurance. Play safe. Get a tube today. At all druggists, 35c and 60c.

Marion Woman Celebrates Ninety-Third Birthday Anniversary Greeting Friends

Mrs. Anna F. Raffensperger, 93 years old today, observed the event greeting friends who called during the day at the home of her son, Dr. E. H. Raffensperger, 209 S. Prospect-st, where she has resided during the last 20 years.

In addition to personal calls from friends residing here, Mrs. Raffensperger during the last few days received numerous letters sent by acquaintances and relatives from various parts of the country expressing congratulations and well wishes in observance of the anniversary.

Among the letters was one from her brother, A. B. Whiting of Topeka, Kan., who at the age of 90, fills the position of superintendent of the Topeka Cemetery, and a sister, Mrs. Mattie Baker, 88, of Everett, Mass. Mrs. Raffensperger and this brother and sister are the only members of their family now living. Mr. Whiting is one of the best-known residents of Topeka and the cemetery which is now under his management has been developed and maintained largely through funds contributed by him.

Minister's Widow

Mrs. Raffensperger is the widow of the late Rev. Edwin B. Raffensperger, D. D., pioneer Presbyterian minister who was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here in 1851 and several years thereafter.

Although Mrs. Raffensperger has been ill of lumbago during the last two weeks, her birthday anniversary found her sufficiently recovered to receive friends who called to extend greetings in observance of the occasion.

She is remarkably alert mentally and takes a keen interest in all current events, which she follows closely through the newspapers and radio. She keeps especially well informed on the situation in China, where a relative is located, and traces developments and military activities on a map of that country which is always near at hand for reference.

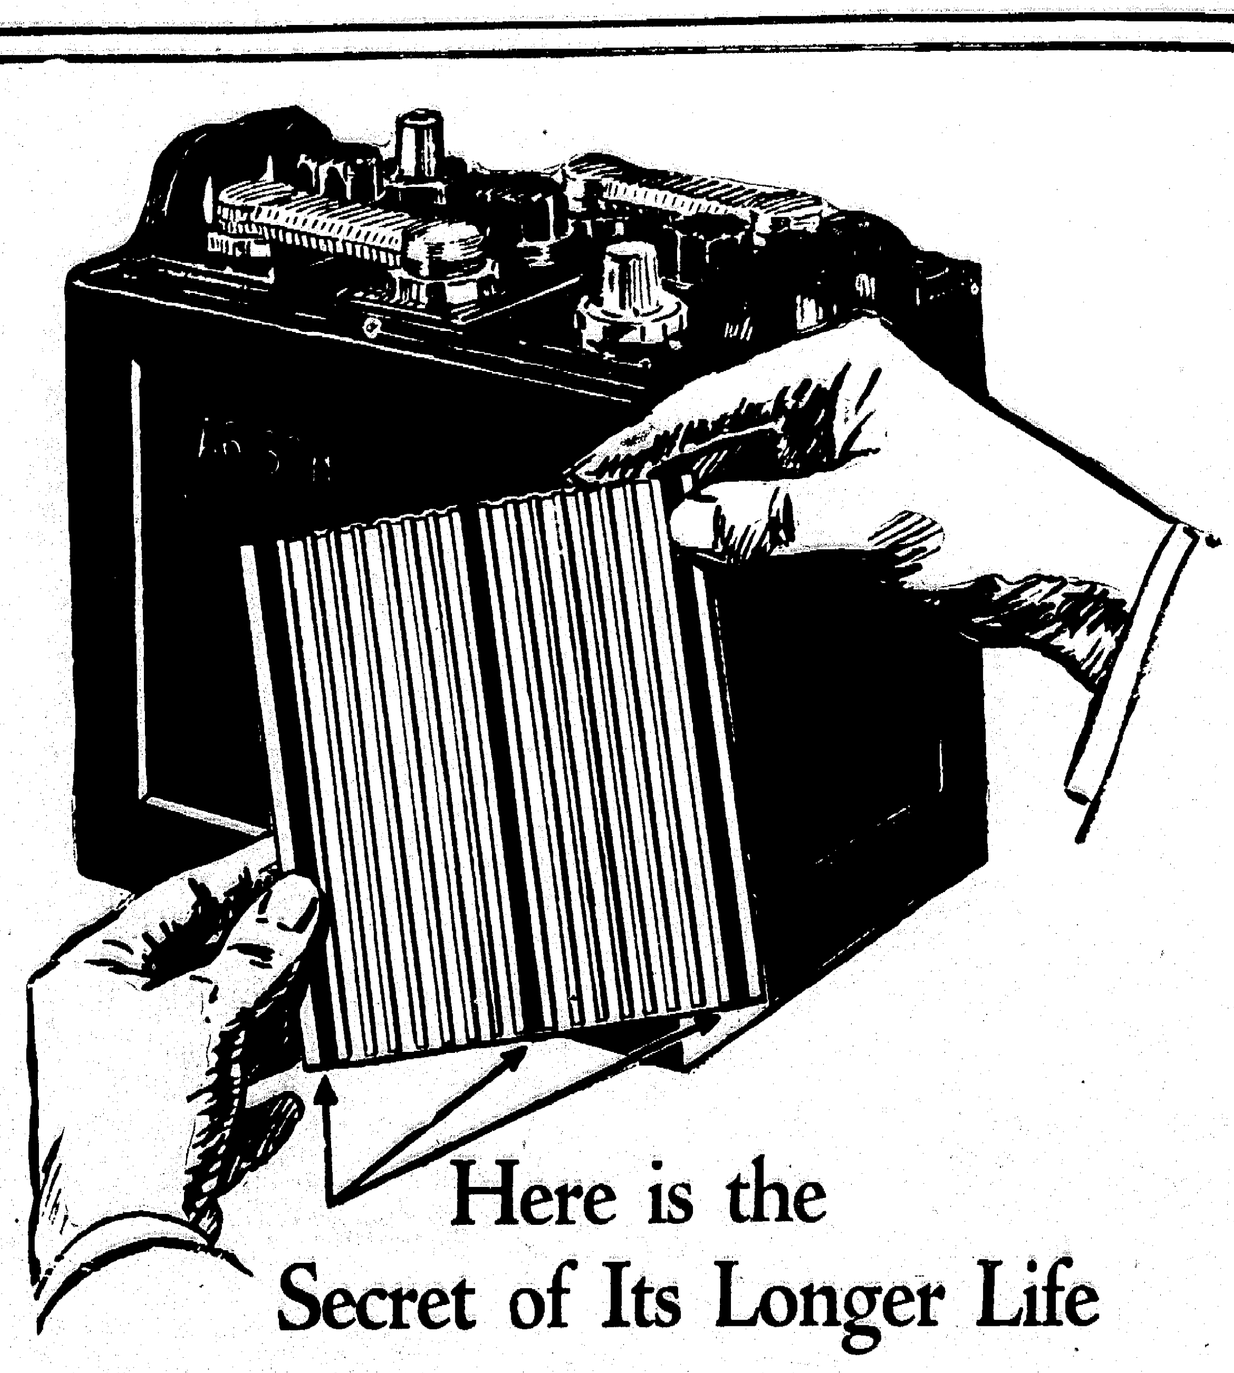
Sure Way To Stop Night Coughing

A Treatment That Ends Night Coughing in 15 Minutes

Persistent night coughing is due to causes which cough syrups or patent medicine do not touch. A remarkable prescription known as Thoxine, working on an entirely different principle, goes direct to the cause and is guaranteed to stop the worst cough within 15 minutes. One dose is all that's needed. If it fails, your money back. No chloroform or other harmful drugs. Safe for children. Equally good for sore throat for any purpose it is far superior to gargles. 35c., 60c., and $1.00. Sold at Brown's Drug Store, Weimer's and all other drug stores.—Adv.



Here is the Secret of Its Longer Life

THE BIGGEST FACTOR in the life of a battery is the ruggedness and strength of the "separators" between the positive and negative plates. Therefore, a great, new improvement in "separators" means a great, new improvement in batteries. By triple-reinforcing separators made of candled Port Orford Cedar (admittedly the best material), with strong, vulcanized rubber ribs, Prest-O-Lite now solves the battery maker's most stubborn problem.

The staunch, vulcanized rubber ribs act as effective buffers between the wood separators and the metal plates—thus giving to the most vulnerable part of a battery the proved ability to actually outwear the plates themselves.

As a result of this new added life, your Prest-O-Lite Rubberib battery will be cheerfully and confidently guaranteed by the Prest-O-Lite company through us.

(Banty was smart enough to see what was coming and he got down and kneeled on his hands and knees behind Mush right there) and you are standing still as he can. Now! Frenchy has fired! Will the bullet hit the apple? No! My gosh! It is too low! Bang!" And when she said bang Feeble doubled up her fist and landed it on Mush's nose, so hard that he stumbled backward, but not hard enough to go clean over Banty, but just hard enought to set down on him, and Banty made a noise like a punctured tire and went flat, and Mush sot there looking around surprised and feeling of his nose, and then Feeble said, "That was just how it happened, only I got a little too low. Stand up and we will do it over again."

Mush stood up with a kind of silly grin, and then he said, "I understand Frenchy's father took him and gave him some of this," and he made a quick grab at Feeble but she slid under his arm and up the steps, and just then the bell rang.

Daily Bedtime Story

BY HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

"Now we're going to have some fun, aren't we, Uncle Wiggily?"

The rabbit gentleman hopped around so quickly on hearing this question asked back of him one morning, that he nearly lost the twinkle from the end of his pink nose.

"What's the matter, Uncle Wiggily," said on the voice of Dazie, the dark blue Wogglejig girl. "Did I frighten you? I am sorry if I did, but all I want is to come adventuring with you. May I?"

"Why, yes," answered the rabbit gentleman, sitting down on a toadstool to catch his breath which nearly ran away from him when his heart beat extra fast. "You may come, Dazie, if you don't have to go to school."

"I have plenty of time to go adventuring with you before school," said Dazie, turning her wooden head around on her wooden neck. "And we're going to have some fun, aren't we?"

"I hope so," answered the bunny, remembering how he had jumped in surprise when he heard that question a little while ago. He thought, then, that it was the Bob Cat or Fox speaking. And the Bob Cats idea of having fun with the rabbit gentleman was to nibble his ears.

"I guess you're glad I'm not a fox, aren't you, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Dazie as she walked along beside the bunny on her wooden legs. For the six Wogglejigs creatures, who were the children of Boppy and Um in the bungleump, were made of wood, as was the funny little man and woman with whom Uncle Wiggily was living for a time.

"I am very glad you aren't a Fox, Dazie," answered Mr. Longears. "And I hope I may have a jolly adventure with you."

"We are going to have an adventure pretty soon!" exclaimed Dazie as she pranced along beside Uncle Wiggily so fast that her wooden tail fell off. But that didn't matter, since the wooden Wogglejigs could take off their heads, tails or legs, scramble them up, change them about as they pleased and then unscramble themselves. Boppy had begged Uncle Wiggily to come on a visit to te bungleump to help with the unscrambling.

"What makes you think we going to have an adventure pretty soon, Dazie?" asked Uncle Wiggily as the Wogglejig girl picked up her tail and put it back where it belonged.

"Because," Dazie answered, hurrying to catch up to the bunny gentleman, "there are the woods just ahead of us, and you always have adventures in the woods. Sammie Littletail told me so."

"Yes, I very often have adventures in the woods," agreed the bunny uncle. "There may be one waiting for us under the trees."

It did not take long for Mr. Longears and Dazie to reach the little forest, and no sooner were they within it that all of a sudden, they heard a voice crying:

"Help! Help! Help!"

"Ho! Ho! Here's an adventure already!" shouted Dazie. She was about to rush forward when Uncle Wiggily caught her by the tail, crying out:

"Wait a minute! Be careful!"

"What for?" asked Dazie looking back, and then she laughed, for Uncle Wiggily had pulled her tail out, it not being fastened in very tight.

"Oh, look what I have done!" gasped Mr. Longears. "Just look! Oh, dear!"

"No harm at all!" laughed Dazie, sticking her tail back on again. "That often happens. But why can't I go to help whoever is calling?"

"Because it might be the fox or wolf," whispered Uncle Wiggily. "First I will take a peep and a look." Meanwhile the voice again cried:

"Help! Help! Help!"

"Oh! It is a poor little ant lady, trying to row a boat across the brook," said Uncle Wiggily when he had peered through the bushes. "She has lost her oars and the stream is carrying her down. I wish I could swim! I'd jump in and save her!" He and Dazie saw the ant lady being carried down the brook in a green leaf boat.

"Help! Help!" cried the ant lady in her tiny voice. "Save me!"

"I'll save you!" shouted Dazie. And, being made of wood, which water could not harm, and having no fur like Uncle Wiggily, into the brook jumped brave Dazie and soon she pushed the ant lady in her green leaf boat safely to the shore.

"You are a good little Wogglejig, Dazie!" said Uncle Wiggily when they were on their way again. "You saved the ant lady. A little more and she would have gone over the waterfall."

"I'm glad I saved her," said Dazie. "It was a fine adventure!"

And if the bread knife dosen't push the fork off the table before it has a chance to eat a piece of pie, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the bon fire.

Most of us wish we had just a little more egotism, but those who have plenty of it don't know it.

IS YOUR COUGH THREE DAYS OLD?

A cough or cold that hangs on after the third day is a threat.

Do something! Don't wait until the cold has run its course—from your head to your throat—from throat to chest or bronchial tubes. Break up your cold before it settles in this "danger zone"; for inflammation spreads, and your bronchial tubes lead directly into your lungs!

Quickly and unfailingly Ayer's Cherry Pectoral stops a cough and drives out the cold. Hospital-Proved Medicine—not just a "cough syrup"!

If you are catching cold; if you have a "head cold"; if your chest is tight; if you have a cough—even if bronchitis has developed—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral at once! It has relieved more colds and coughs than any other medicine in the world.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is used by hospital clinics and leading physicians. Pleasant, safe and effective for children and grown people. At all druggists. Save 20 cents by getting the dollar bottle, containing twice as much as the 60c trial size. c56a

Host to Officers of Organization at Annual President's Dinner

O. H. Boyd, president of the Henry Ackerman Piano Co., returned yesterday from Columbus, where he had charge of the annual mid-year meeting of trustees of the Music Merchants Association of Ohio, held Monday at the Neil House. Mr. Boyd is president of the state organization.

One of the outstanding features of the business session was adoption of a resolution condemning publication and sale of songs based upon risque themes and containing phrases of a suggestive nature. Suppression of songs of this type was advocated as a safeguard for public morals.

The annual "president's dinner" took place at the Neil House at 6 o'clock Monday evening, with Mr. Boyd as host to other officers of the organization.

RAIL BONDS SUPPLY FIRMNESS TO MARKET

Bearish Professionals Direct Attack Against Industrial and Oil Stocks

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

Railroad stocks reactionary; industrials, reactionary; domestic bonds, steady; foreign bonds firm; call money 4 1-2 per cent; grain fairly steady; copper firm; oil weak; cotton fairly steady; rubber irregular; sugar irregular; pig iron steady; foreign exchange steady.

New York, Mar. 30—The railroad stocks supplied whatever there was of firmness and buoyancy to the stock market today. The industrial stocks were under fire of the bearish professionals from the opening gong, with the heaviest guns trained on the oil stocks, motors and specialties which failed to hold their ground under concentrated selling pressure during the last 10 days.

The decline in the motor stocks was accompanied by a series of unsettling rumors concerning the slowing up of operations in some of the well known plants, together with predictions of merging of a number of the small concerns. Weakness in Dodge Brothers helped to unsettle the list as a whole.

The street also heard reports of a sizable decline in steel operations, made necessary by the discontinuance of hand-to-mouth buying in important branches of the trade. The reports were not credited and the steel stocks made a much better showing than the industrials in other sections of the market. Fresh outbursts of professional selling in the oil stocks produced a number of new low price records for such well known stocks as Marland, Phillips and Skelly, while Standard of New Jersey broke through 37 for the first time this year.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

With supplies of all products large today and trading normal there was slight variation in price on any items. The wholesale egg market was reported weaker but the price was not changed. Retail prices of eggs continued around 25 to 30 cents a dozen for fresh eggs. Some stores, lucky enough to pick up small lots of eggs from farmers, are selling them as low as 22 cents a dozen, but these are specials and do not last long.

Asparagus and rhubarb are proving strong sellers on local markets. Both are shipped products and are being taken as fast as the supplies are replenished. Both are selling for 10 cents a bunch.

Strawberries are showing up in sales, not many being handled this week. The price has stayed at 40 cents a quart for several weeks now, and shows no inclination to drop further. It will probably stay around 40 cents until the Tennessee crop comes into the market.

House Prepares Biennial $46,693,472 Appropriation Bill

WOULD DEFRAY STATE EXPENSE FOR 18 MONTHS

Budget Measure May Be Called Up for Passage Next Tuesday

Columbus, Mar. 30—Members of the house finance committee today were completing preparations for introducing in the house Friday the regular biennial appropriation bill. The measure, it was indicated, will provide for a budget approximating $46,693,472 to defray the cost of state governmental activities during the 18-months' period beginning July 1, next.

The bill, which may be called up for passage in the lower legislative branch next Tuesday, provides for appropriations aggregating about $7,512,226 less than the proposed budget submitted by Gov. Vic Donahey in one of his legislative messages. The governor's recommendation totaled $54,205,698.

Cuts made by the committee, compared with the governor's budget, included $6,312,061 in the general division, $611,365 for educational institutions and $555,800 for state welfare institutions; $900,000 for school equalization funds and $3,427,061 for the state highway department.

Keep Levy in View

The $900,000 cut in school funds was made in view of the proposal to enact a half-mill direct state tax levy to provide funds for weak school districts and for state educational institutions. This proposed levy, to be in effect but one year, is expected to yield about $6,500,000 in state revenue.

The reduction of $3,427,061 in highway funds was in expectation that the present legislature will increase the state gasoline tax from two to three cents per gallon and that the additional $7,000,000 a year, resulting from the extra one-cent tax, will be used only for highway construction. 60 per cent of the money, about $4,200,000, going direct to the state highway department, and the other 40 per cent to be apportioned to the counties on the basis of motor vehicle population.

Action is to be taken today by the house on the Knapp joint resolution providing for appointment of a joint legislative committee, consisting of two senators and two house members, to cooperate with the state welfare and highway directors relative to erection of buildings for the new state institution for feeble-minded at Applecreek, Wayne County.

The resolution proposed that adoption of all plans and specifications shall be subject to the approval of this committee and prohibits the letting of contracts and expenditure of moneys for the institution unless approved by this committee.

By a vote of 103 to 0, the house passed the Brown bill, providing additional facilities for collecting the excise tax on gasoline. The bill now goes to the senate.

Although voting 65 to 48, the house defeated the Goodwin Bill, to authorize the state and political subdivisions to pay the premiums on bonds of public officers, because the affirmative vote fell short of the required majority of 69 votes.

The house, 73 to 48, passed the Ott Bill, increasing the salaries of judges of the state supreme, appellate and common pleas courts, and providing per diem compensation and expenses of judges while holding court outside the county in which they reside. The bill now goes to the senate.
